High Street businesses head for Welsh awards

Helen Huggins of Beautiful Lily Florist (left) and Debbie Burton-Slocombe of Aspirations UK have been nominated in The Welsh Independent Retail Awards.

TWO High Street businesses in Barry have been nominated in the top 10 finalists in the 'The Welsh Independent Retail Awards'.

It is huge boost for the area at a time when there are concerns about the impact of online shopping on local retail businesses across the UK.

Aspirations UK at 104 High Street has been nominated in the furniture category and Beautiful Lily Florist at 92 High Street has been nominated in the independent business category.

Debbie Burton-Slocombe and her husband Glyn Slocombe, who own Aspirations UK, and Helen Huggins of Beautiful Lily will be attending the awards ceremony at The Exchange Hotel in Cardiff on Monday, April 15.

Debbie said: "I feel humble to have been nominated. I didn't know about the awards. The voting took place in December and we got a call to say we'd been nominated."

Aspirations UK is an official stockist of eco-friendly Frenchic furniture paint and has a strong environmental ethos.

Debbie explained: "We live in a throwaway society and we sell furniture which has been up-cycled to a professional finish. It means fewer items in landfill and less waste."

The business also hosts painting classes for people wanting to breathe new life into old furniture.

Helen Huggins was named 'Welsh Florist of the Year' at the Welsh Wedding Awards last

She said: "I can't thank my customers enough. After winning Welsh Florist of the Year 2018, I never in a million years had thought I'd be up for another award."

"I received an email and phone call a week ago which took me by surprise because my friend Debbie from Aspirations UK had informed me she had been nominated for an award."

"After much excitement we realised we have both been nominated for different categories in the top 10 independent business awards."

"We are both delighted to be sharing this special awards evening together."

'Amazing' public finds Stoffel!

Alida, Gregg, and Stoffel the beagle, .

A Barry's couple's despair at losing their beagle turned to joy when they found him less than 48 hours after he went missing thanks to help from the public.

Alida Jones told The GEM: "We were overwhelmed with offers of help."

Mrs Jones and her husband Gregg, who live in Broad Street, were devastated when five-year-old Stoffel vanished on Monday, February 25.

Mrs Jones explained: "Gregg got home from work and wondered where he was. He thought maybe I had taken him for a walk."

"I was still at work, and said no I hadn't and we realised Stoffel was missing."

"I cried like a baby."

"He'd broken through his 'doggy door' which leads to the back garden."

"It's closed during the day."

Stoffel had climbed over the wall and into the lane at the back.

The couple think he may have been chasing a cat.

When Mrs Jones returned home, the couple took his lead and harness and set off to find him.

Reader asks for clarification over event licensing

I WAS extremely surprised to read the notice on the railings of Romilly Park regarding a premises licence request for events at the above park.

I have lived at the above address since 1968 and have enjoyed numerous events at the park, including the now defunct horse and flower show, and still going strong – the Scouts' Fete. The said notice lists films, live music, recorded music, performances of dance and anything similar.

The piece de resistance: the sale of alcohol, and the times mentioned: Sunday – Saturday 1000 to 2330hrs. Yes, Sunday – Saturday; is that a whole week?

This is a residential area and I have had no problems with the few events we have had over the years, but this list of entertainments seems rather excessive. The notification I had posted through my door from Mack Events suggests a figure eventually up to 6,999; that would entail rather a large amount of traffic. Where will it all go?

I await your reply.
Mrs Dinah M Thomas, Barry.
The GEM contacted the organisers, who responded:

"We are really glad this has been pointed out; the application is generic and we have absolutely no plans to put on things such as live films, plays, or dance performances.

"Also, we will not be holding any events until 11.30pm.

"It's the way the application is written; when you see it, it looks like we have plans to put on multiple events until late in the evening, that is definitely not the case.

"We only have plans for one weekend a year, and we finish at 9pm on Saturday and Sunday and are actually finishing even earlier this year on the Friday at 8.30pm.

"The reason for the application is so we hold the licence and we can increase the capacity slightly, but we will make sure everything is done in the correct manner."

The GEM also asked for clarification from the Vale Council.

Cllr Hunter Jarvie, Cabinet Member for Legal and Regulatory Services, said: "We have received an application to licence Romilly Park seven days a week rather than just for GlastonBARRY as a specific event and are currently conducting a public consultation exercise on the matter.

"Some resident representations have already been received and the views of all other interested parties are invited before the closing date of March 13.

"All opinions will be given full consideration before a Licensing Sub-Committee makes a decision on the application."

'In defence of Iolo...'

IN the light of comments made about Iolo Morganwg by Mr Jeffrey Bird in last week's GEM, I would like to respond:

You dismiss him as a fraudster. A fraudster is a person who deceives others for personal profit. Whilst Iolo embroidered Welsh history, he never did so for money.

In extending and developing Welsh national mythology he was following in a fine line of poets/historians who have embellished the history of all nations in the cause of creating national identity.

I submit Mallory re-inventing King Arthur, Thomas Cromwell re-inventing European tradition, Walter Scott creating tartan Rob Roy. La Villemarqué revising Breton mythology or Napoleon III re-creating Vercingetorix as a symbol of heroism. The list is long and fascinating

'Hoping for change for the better'

IN response to Amy Jackson ('We do not want her sort in The GEM, Feb 28).

Firstly you state you welcome different views and opinions, but obviously upset by my negative comments on the town, you saw fit to become personal and rude.

'My sort' is entitled to express a view on a place I reside in. 'My sort' also views things through a different pair of eyes.

'My sort' hopes my negative comments prompt positive action to benefit all residents across the board, which include older residents who may not have access to a vehicle or shop online. I can only assume Amy Jackson has the benefit of both.

Holton Road does not have two butchers or two greengrocers, nor does it have a baker for fresh bread. Old Barry, Cadroxton, has nothing at all, hence the town is the nearest port of call.

Barry Island has been fortunate to have a lot of money ploughed into the area, plus the upgrade of the funfair has made it a pleasant and thriving place.

This week has seen the demise of yet another business: Sylvesters is no more. But hey ho, down by Halfords on Barry Waterfront we are being treated to yet another takeaway in the form of Burger King and a Costa Coffee house. I certainly can't contain my excitement on that news.

Perhaps where Sylvesters stood, instead of a block of flats we could have a proper cinema to replace the one we were robbed of; but personally I would far rather see the valued shop of Sylvesters providing us with our DIY, without having to travel distances for our requirements.

'My sort' may not be welcome by the likes of Amy Jackson, but 'my sort' is not leaving.

'My sort' will always have an opinion that is not in line with other people, and hopes it will hit a nerve that will promote change for the better... but I am not holding my breath on that one because some believe all our needs are provided for in the town.

Anne Usher, Barry

and Iolo's imaginings have an honourable place.

The Iolo Morganwg you dismiss as a mere 'fraudster' achieved:

- The recording and preservation of scores of C19th Welsh folk tunes and lyrics which are now a vital part of Welsh culture.

- The discovery and conservation of the manuscripts of Wales' great medieval poets from the decaying libraries of the C18th nobility.

- The composition and communication of a Welsh national narrative that sustained Welsh identity and language through the fierce anti-Welsh attacks of the C19th

- The foundation of the Gorsedd of Bards, the first Welsh national institution since the time of Owain Glyndwr, which in turn provided the springboard for the creation of the National Library and Universities.

- The discovery and preservation of ancient Glamorgan artefacts including the Samson stone in St Illtud's church, Llantwit Major.

- The foundation of the first fair trade shop in Britain.

- A tireless campaign against slavery.

- Significant contributions to the development of the radical and peace movements in Wales

- The collection and coining of new (and still current) words in the Welsh language to reflect developments in Western European politics and philosophy.

- The active representation of underprivileged individuals in the Vale against the tyranny of the Poor Law overseers.

- The creation of many fine poems in English and Welsh, together with 3,000 hymns.

- Many fine pieces of monumental sculpture in Glamorgan, Bristol and London.

He is worthy of our respect.

'Farewell to store'

IT is so sad to see Sylvester's/Silver Star DIY store closing after such a very long time serving the people of Barry, my adopted home town.

Silver Star was a jewel and an inspiration in our town. It was run as a competitive business and survived all the competition that was thrown at it.

Tony Wason opened in Barry a few years ago and as soon as Focus DIY appeared on the scene, or shortly afterwards, Tony decided to throw the towel – but the Sylvester Brothers decided to carry on.

They eventually were able to see off Focus

DIY as they closed due to insurmountable debts throughout their UK network.

The Sylvester Brothers, however, always had the knack of seeing the wood through the trees and weathered the storm with incredible tenacity.

I, and I am sure many of Barry's townsfolk, will miss the comical banter with David Sylvester but most of all, will miss being able to get all or most of what we wanted at their Barry store at a reasonable price.

Good luck and enjoy your well-earned retirement – you really deserve it.

Barrie V Evans,
Barry.

HIGH TIDE TIMES (UNTIL MARCH 14)

The high tides listed in this week's GEM are those in Porthcawl. It should be remembered that along the coast, high tide times will vary. For instance, in Barry, the high point will be 20-25 minutes later.

DATE	Time	Ht	Time	Ht
	AM	M	PM	M
07 Thur	07.12	9.6	19.25	9.6
08 Fri	07.42	9.7	19.55	9.6
09 Sat	08.12	9.6	20.24	9.6
10 Sun	08.43	9.5	20.54	9.4
11 Mon	09.13	9.3	21.25	9.2
12 Tues	09.43	9.1	21.58	8.9
13 Wed	10.22	8.7	22.43	8.5
14 Thurs	11.14	8.2	23.42	8.0

While The GEM makes every effort to check the accuracy of tide tables, we recommend that anyone putting out to sea, or walking in an area where they could be cut off, should check with a tide table specific to their location.

Parking-ticket problem for visitor to Barry

A WOMAN visiting Barry Island claims she was repeatedly "cut off" when she tried to pay by telephone for a car parking space and points out the council "...could be missing out on business".

Gemma Jones, who lives in Cornwall, visited Barry Island with her sister on February 17.

She claimed that a number of other people experienced the same situation at Nell's Point car park.

Gemma said: "We decided to take the children to Barry Island for the day. I tried to pay over the phone four times and I was cut off each time. The same happened with my sister's phone."

"Other people were having similar problems. The council could be losing out on business because of this."

The women were unaware that elsewhere in the car park there is a ticket machine which takes cash, although people have to pay the exact money because the machines do not accept notes.

Gemma said that it would have helped if there had been a sign indicating another payment method was possible.

The GEM contacted the council to ask whether the phone payment system was working efficiently.

Mike Clogg, the Vale's operational manager for engineering, said he was confident the car parking service was operating according to plan.

People are able to pay for a car parking space on Barry Island by cash, text, phone or via a smart-phone app.

"Visitors to Barry Island can pay to park at any Vale Council car park using cash, by text, phone or via smart-phone app."

"During the summer season these car parks are used by thousands of visitors each day and we are confident that this range of options ensures all visitors are catered for."

"No issues with the payment system were reported on the day in question but if there were temporary problems then the council would like to apologise for any inconvenience caused."

£160,000 facelift for Dinas Library

DINAS Powys library is undergoing a major refurbishment following the award of a £160,000 EU grant.

The work will create a meeting room available for hire, an open space with a small kitchen and an upgraded library area.

To enable building work to proceed, the library has relocated to Bethesda Chapel a few yards down the road. The library is now open there and will remain there until Saturday, April 13.

The chair of trustees, Chris Franks, said that the object was to provide modern facilities but maintain the high level of library services.

He said: "We are very grateful to Bethesda for providing free accommodation for the library. The refurbishment will provide exciting opportunities for the whole community. The new meeting room will accommodate around 40 people and will be suitable for a range of activities."

"The open space will be available again for hire and tea and coffee can be provided."

The library is now a charity which has to raise over £1,000 every month to keep the doors open and the lights on. It is managed by a board of trustees with 45 volunteers running the library. New volunteers are welcome and will be offered full training.

Stoffel is found!

Mrs Jones said: "I also put photos on Facebook and a message 'Please help! Stoffel is missing! Guys please share, he got out the back. Someone spotted a beagle in Broad Street. Please help me find him!'"

Thousands of people and a number of groups began to share her plea on Facebook including 'South Wales Lost and Found', 'South Wales Beagle', 'Dogs Lost' and 'Harvey's Army North'.

There were reports of him at Asda and Barry Train Station. That night, they left the front door open with his food and blanket in the hope he would return.

They continued the search the next day, Tuesday, but with no luck.

Then, late on Tuesday, they received a message on Facebook that Stoffel had been spotted at the back of the Pumphouse.

Gregg went out with Stoffel's favourite squeaky toy, called Wilson, early on Wednesday morning and heard him bark at the back of the Pumphouse. Gregg then sounded the toy to attract his attention.

Alida said: "He recognised my husband and ran over to him. My husband put it on Face Time and told me: 'I've found him!' I was sobbing."

"I went out to meet them. As we were going back home a woman who was driving past our house shouted out: 'Is that the missing beagle?' It was amazing."

"I want to thank the public. We couldn't have found him without their support."

Stoffel is none the worse for his ordeal and is just as mischievous as ever.

Dinas Powys gets £670,000 boost in funding

THE Vale Council says Dinas Powys is to have £670,000 spent on its open spaces and community facilities.

The funds are available because developers building housing estates have to make a contribution to the local community. Cllr Jonathan Bird, Vale Council Cabinet member for Regeneration and Planning, told The GEM a consultation will be carried out soon to decide where the money should go.

He explained: "The council has secured funding of around £280,000 to improve public open spaces in Dinas Powys and a sum in the region of £390,000 for community facilities from recent developments in the village.

"We will shortly begin a period of public consultation to help decide how this money should be spent, with a significant upgrade to the Murchfield play area among the proposals, and would welcome the input of any interested parties.

"There is also £15,000 of 'Section 106' money allocated to the Strong Communities Grant Fund specifically for groups in Dinas Powys to apply for. We have already approved £1,500 towards Dinas Powys Wild About Nature's proposals for environmental enhancements and have received enquiries from other organisations within the village."

Community chair Cllr Steve Thomas recently welcomed Charlotte Pugh, the senior planning officer responsible for development contributions at the Vale Council who explained how the funding could benefit the village.

Community councillor Chris Franks said councillors were prepared to help local voluntary groups make applications for funding if their ideas fulfilled the correct criteria.

Barry war photo is claimed by family

WITHIN hours of The GEM being published last week, a local woman was able to claim the photograph of Royal Navy Leading Signalman Graham Andrews.

LS Andrews, who was serving on HMS Prince of Wales was killed in action against Bismarck in May 1941.

His niece Jeanette Andrews said her family would be thrilled to

Vivienne Waters had found it while she was clearing out the loft of a house in Princes Street, once owned by her late grandmother Gertrude Stephenson (who was known as Doris). She thinks LS Andrews' mother had given Doris the image because they were close friends.

Jeanette Andrews told The GEM: "I read your article, published on February 28, with great interest as it was about my uncle Graham. Our family would be thrilled to receive any documents or photographs that Mrs Waters has that relate to my family."

"I'd like to thank Mrs Waters for even thinking there may be some family locally who would appreciate having these items, rather than just getting rid of them. Luckily one of my friends called me when she saw the article."

The GEM has put the two families in touch with each other.

RNLI Coffee morning
THE Dinas Powys branch of the RNLI is holding a coffee morning on Saturday, March 16 in the Lee Hall, Dinas Powys between 10am and 12 noon.

A bottomless pot of tea/coffee and biscuits will be served, a raffle and slices of cakes will be available to buy. Tickets (£3) from committee members or on the door.

A busy programme planned for WI

HIGHLIGHT Park WI in Barry recently had a crafty afternoon making green hearts for a new banner for the hall.

We welcomed some new visitors and hope they were happy enough to return. Thanks to Pat for coming up with so many different techniques and textures.

Now, the banner is installed in the hall on the back wall. It portrays how the Women's Institute has maintained its friendship and companionship over the years.

It looks very 'green' as it should, to support the 'Show the Love for the Environment' campaign which the WI are strongly supporting. As part of our activities sessions, last month we joined in with Ystradowen WI to play whist which we hope will be a regular feature.

We held a silent auction which began very silently with people gingerly looking at objects large and small. The prices were low, and the buyers seemed happy with their choices.

Barbara our president opened the meeting and we had the usual birthday announcements but were saddened to hear that Connie Jacobs, a long standing member had passed on.

Barbara also read out a letter from Jean Booker, whose mum had been a founder member of our institute, to say that she was donating sufficient funds for the purchase of a complete set of new crockery and to provide a bursary to attend the WI Denman college, all in her mother's name as she had enjoyed her years with the WI so much.

Our sincere thanks to Jean and her mum for their kindness.

Pam Ralphs gave us an update on invitations and announced several upcoming events, including a fashion show with lunch in May at the Norton House Hotel in Mumbles.

We have a visit to Pewsham Women's Institute planned for afternoon tea including a visit to Lacock in the morning. Our main meeting speakers and activities are already booked for 2019, and our lunches every month and theatre bookings are also going well.

Meetings are held at Highlight Park hall, first Tuesday of the month at 2pm and third Tuesday of the month at 7.15pm, with a craft afternoon on Thursday every week at 2pm. Come along and enjoy our company and meet up with old friends. You are very welcome!

D-Day dance!

TO coincide with the 75th anniversary of the D-Day landings, the Cadoc branch of the Conservative Association is holding a 1940s music and dance evening at the Cadoxton Conservative Club, Vere Street, Barry on Saturday, May 25 at 7pm.

Organised by former Barry at War chair, Ade Pitman and Cadoc Ward Councillor Rachel Nugent-Finn, the event has as its theme a 1940s dance, similar to one which may have taken place in the venue during the Second World War. The event will feature live music from Ricky Hunter.

Mr Pitman said: "We felt that in this historic year it would be a nice idea to hold another 1940s' dance to celebrate both the success of the D-Day landings, and the ultimate liberation of Europe from oppression."

"This is the fifth dance that I have run, the last of which being a few years back now. Due to the support from the venue, we have been able to keep ticket prices the same as the last dance with special rates for veterans and OAPs.

Cllr Nugent-Finn said: "I'm delighted to be working alongside Ade and welcome everybody to come and join us in a real community event. I want to support the Cadoxton Conservative Club and all residents in my ward, and encourage people to come along. We will have Lindy Hop dance professionals on hand to demonstrate classic 1940s' dance routines."

Period dress is encouraged, so wear your favourite military uniform* or civilian clothing and take a trip back to 1944. Tickets from Ade Pitman at £6 in advance and £4 for OAPs and veterans. Call Mr Pitman on 07930 874161 or email Cllr Nugent-Finn on rnugent-finn@valeofglamorgan.gov.uk.

Vale man inspires others to fight cystic fibrosis

A Cowbridge man, Josh Llewellyn-Jones, has been recognised by the Prime Minister and Secretary of State for Wales for his "outstanding voluntary service" fundraising for cystic fibrosis charities at a Downing Street reception to mark St David's Day.

Mr Llewellyn-Jones, aged 31, has raised over £750,000 from extreme fitness challenges in support of cystic fibrosis charities and his own foundation to encourage children with the condition to exercise.

Diagnosed with cystic fibrosis as a child, Josh was told by doctors that he would not live into his thirties. Inspired to raise awareness of the condition and show the importance of still being physically active, Josh has undertaken a range of endurance challenges such as ultra-marathons, and became a world record holder after weight-lifting an astonishing one million kilos in 24 hours.

His challenges have raised money in support of his foundation 'CF Warriors', which helps children with cystic fibrosis get into sport at an early age by providing dedicated packs giving tips on exercise and fitness.

CF Warriors has also provided an online community for children with cystic fibrosis who are isolated from others with the condition due to risks of cross-infection.

Josh is one of the latest recipients of the 'Points of Light' award, which recognises outstanding volunteers who are making a change in their community and inspiring others. Each day, someone, somewhere in the country is selected to receive the award to celebrate their remarkable achievements.

He was presented with his award at the Downing Street St David's Day reception by Secretary of State for Wales, and his local MP, Alun Cairns.

In a personal letter to Josh, Prime Minister Theresa May said:

"You should feel very proud of your extraordinary fundraising efforts and the transformational work of your foundation. Through 'CF Warriors', you are inspiring young people with cystic fibrosis to enjoy exercise and live the fullest lives they can. You are an inspiration and I wish you the very best with your future challenges."

Josh is the 1131st winner of the Points of Light award, which has been developed in partnership with the Points of Light programme in the USA. Over 6,000 Points of Light have been awarded in the USA, and former Presidents have publicly supported the partnership with Points of Light UK.

There is a similar cross-party approach to the UK programme and MPs from different parties often present their constituents with their Points of Light awards.

Friendship gift travels from 'Barry to Bhutan'

LOCAL Art4U volunteer Danielle Nicholls recently presented a 'Barry-Bhutan' friendship stone to the chief abbot of the Phajoding monastery in Thimphu.

It was made by Cheryl Dobbinson to mark the link between the two communities. The stone depicts an owl painted in the national colours of Bhutan with the message 'From Barry to Bhutan'.

Danielle said: "I went to Bhutan to take part in a pilgrimage and experience the Mahayana tradition of Buddhism. I wanted to go where it all began.

"We went to monasteries, cultural sites and took part in a retreat for a couple of days. The people were full of kindness. It was a lovely trip."

Glyn Pooley of Art4U said: "Bhutan is one of the only countries in the world that measures 'Gross National Happiness' instead of the more conventional 'Gross National Product'. Its commitment to place people's well-being at the centre of its politics is an inspiration we wanted to share with our town.

"As an organisation, we would like to thank Danielle for taking this journey and offering our message of kindness from the people of Barry."

Support local carers

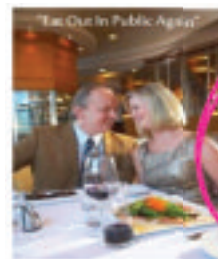

TO ensure that the carers of patients on the Sam Davies Ward in Barry Hospital receive the necessary support, Sister Linda Edwards has organised a series of meetings to provide advice and information on support services and carers' rights.

Links have already been made with Carers Wales, which provides a number of factsheets.

Many of these factsheets are available on the ward or may be obtained from Carers Wales website. Also, for those patients with links to the Armed Forces, there is support on offer from the British Legion. Admiral nurses who support carers of those living with dementia. A variety of contact details are displayed on the carers' noticeboard on the Sam Davies Ward.

For further information, contact Sister Edwards, ward manager of the Sam Davies Ward on 01446 704164 or Jackie Memory at Jackie.memory@btinternet.com

Barry hygiene bank launches on International Women's Day

HIGH Street businesses in Barry will mark International Women's Day on Friday, March 8 by highlighting the contribution local businesswomen make to the local economy and by launching a hygiene bank.

The new chairman of High Street traders, Vicky McDonald, told The GEM: "It's an opportunity to recognise the sheer number of women in the Barry community who stand out as real-life, excellent working examples of strong businesswomen."

"Female entrepreneurs set a phenomenal example to our younger generations that you can create your own business and thrive. These strong role models demonstrate every day the tenacity, dedication and passion required to live their dream of owning a successful business."

Annie and Lolo on High Street plans to launch a hygiene bank at 10am on Friday, March 8 for women in need. The scheme will work in a similar way to the foodbanks and donations of items such as toothpaste and brushes, tampons, sanitary towels, soap, shampoo, conditioner and deodorant are welcome.

The shop has joined forces with The Goodwash Company to sell a limited-edition, Mother's Day issue of its candle, donating 100 per cent of the profit to Llamau, which supports women and girls facing homelessness in Wales.

Local college students will also have the chance to meet some of the businesswomen in the area. TC

Cadoxton WI meeting

AT the February meeting of Cadoxton Barry WI, the ladies enjoyed tea, coffee and biscuits as they discussed the next few months' upcoming trips to Trago Mills, The Wye Garden Centre, The GFWI fashion show and garden party.

Raffles were won by Gay Fifield and Kim Knight. A very pleasant afternoon was had by those members who went to Cardiff Bay for lunch, the cinema and a wander around the Bay in the sunshine. KK

On February 28, members enjoyed an evening at the Eating Rooms in Thompson Street, Barry where the food and excellent service from Dean and his wife made for a wonderful evening.

The next meeting of the Cadoxton WI is Monday, March 18 at 7pm where our guest speaker will be giving a talk on sepsis awareness.

New members are always welcome and if you are interested, please contact Christina Whitechurch the president on 01446 404891. PDGG

GlastonBARRY 2019 under big top circus tent

THE organisers of the GlastonBARRY Tribute Festival are introducing a big top circus tent to Romilly Park in Barry this year.

The festival takes place over the weekend of July 27 and 28. Cousins Matt Blumberg and Ross Mackintosh launched the festival in 2013 to raise the profile of Barry and bring top tribute acts to the town.

The festival has grown significantly over the years and this year the capacity is 6,000 each day.

Ross said: "GlastonBARRY 2019 is being taken to the next level. We will have a new larger big top circus tent where the main stage is located and it houses the full festival capacity. We also have an outside stage with some amazing tributes playing in between the main acts. The capacity is bigger, the production is bigger and we have 20 of the best UK bands."

The 20 tribute acts under the big top this year will be Queen - tribute by Flash; Oasis - tribute by Oasis; Bon Jovi - tribute by Bon Jovi; Abba - tribute by Abba Revival; UB40 - tribute by U2baby; Madness/The Specials - tribute by 2Rude; Blondie - tribute by Heart of Glass; Take That - tribute by Rule the World; Kings of Leon - tribute by The Four Kicks; ACDC - tribute by Hells Bells; Bruno Mars - tribute by Glenn Owen; The Rolling Stones - tribute by The Rolling Clones; The Bee Gees - tribute by The Bootleg Bee Gees; The Kinks - tribute by The Kinks Experience; StereoPhonics - tribute by The StereoTonic; Bryan Adams - tribute by The Bryan Adams Effect; The Police - tribute by The Secret Police; and The Vally Boys from London's West End will perform a number of songs.

Platform given to Transport for Wales speaker

BARRY Men's Forum welcomed a representative from Transport for Wales, James Bennett who outlined the plans for the redevelopment of the rail network in Wales and the border counties.

The speaker next week will be the TV presenter Trevor Fishlock and the topic 'Adventures in Ink'.

Further details may be obtained from Mac Tanner on 01446 743455; new members are always welcome, and we meet at Holy Trinity Church, Aberystwyth Crescent, Barry, every Thursday from 9.45pm onwards. PDGG

The coaches thought the singing battle between Bethzienna (right) and Moya was one of the best so far. Image property of ITV.

Sir Tom saves Barry's Bethzienna on The Voice UK

BARRY'S Bethzienna Williams was spared an exit on Saturday night's The Voice UK after Sir Tom Jones stepped in to save her.

Miss Williams was in Battle Round 2 of the talent show in which two contestants sing the same song together and one of the judges has to pick a winner.

Miss Williams said: "I was extremely nervous and definitely didn't want to go home."

She was up against Moya, who is from Jersey, and the song they sang was 'Never Tear Us Apart' by INXS. Both women sang their hearts out and at the end judge Jennifer Hudson declared Moya the winner.

Miss Williams said: "I was genuinely pleased for her because we have become close friends and I know how much it means to her."

"Then I thought 'I could be going home', but when I heard the coaches talking I felt really good and that maybe it wasn't the end."

A reprieve was on the way because when Jennifer Hudson told Tom Jones 'She's from where you are - Wales', he hit his button to save her and give her a chance on his team.

Miss Williams said: "To be chosen by Tom was a dream come true. He's been one of my icons since I was little."

Bethzienna now heads for the knockout rounds in a couple of weeks.

The Voice UK continues at 8pm, Saturdays on ITV.

Women arrested after police raids in Barry

POLICE in Barry executed a series of early morning warrants at three addresses in the town on Thursday, February 28.

The intelligence led operation resulted in a 51 year old woman being arrested on suspicion of possession with intent to supply a class A drug and a 42 year old woman arrested on suspicion of possession with intent to supply a Class C drug.

Both women are from the Court area of Barry. They are currently being held at Queen's Road police station, Bridgend.

Sergeant Julie Madoc-Smart from Barry police station said: "This operation targeted drug dealers and those supplying drugs in our communities. We take a hard approach to drugs related offences and this operation sends out a clear deterrent message to criminals that we will find you and arrest you."

"The main purpose of this operation was to target alleged offenders and through planned police activity identify and arrest those involved in the supply of drugs."

"Our communities do not want drugs within them and the possession and supply of drugs is a criminal offence and one that we take seriously. We will continue to take action against those that offend."

Sgt Madoc-Smart added: "We rely on intelligence from residents to tackle drug supply in our communities and I urge local residents to report any suspicious activity to us."

'A message of hope and goodwill on St David's Day'

THERE were many messages of hope and goodwill on St David's Day in Wales and throughout the world as we celebrated the Day with activities, processions, concerts and events.

I was particularly pleased to hear from the First Minister, Mark Drakeford, when he said: "Wales' influence expands beyond the land borders of our country – so I am extending my greeting not just to everyone here in Wales, but to all those who have adopted Wales as their home; to all those who are far from home but always Welsh at heart and to the many people in every corner of the world with links to Wales.

"Each and every one of you play a part in making Wales the proud and confident nation it is. Wales is, and will remain, an outward-looking nation. We may be a small country of just over three million people, but the impact we make across the world is considerable."

On St David's Day, that spirit was reflected at many events I attended, including the launch of a new Valeways Walk with MIND in the Vale, to promote health and wellbeing. We met at Barry town station at the Travellers Cafe and Gallery run by the mental health charity, and I welcomed this new initiative to promote walking as beneficial to mental, as well as physical, health. Led by Valeways walk Leader Chris Jennings, these walks will take place the first Friday of the month at 10am, so all are welcome to join the next walk on April 5. Later that morning, I welcomed members of the Vale Youth Forum and Colwinston Youth Club to the Senedd and was pleased to hear of their enthusiasm for St David's Day to be a public holiday which many would support in Wales. They told me about the priorities emerging from the first session of the Welsh Youth Parliament which met on February 23 at the Senedd, including our Vale representative, Lleucu Wiliam.

The three key priorities emerging out of the debates in their Parliament were emotional and mental health support, littering and plastic waste and life skills in the curriculum. I am pleased that we will soon be debating legislation to enable our 16 and 17 year olds to vote in the next Assembly elections. We have a lot to learn from our school students and young people who take part in Youth Forums, councils and cabinets across Wales, including the Llantwit Youth Council Members who played their part in the refurbishing of a playground at the Birds Estate in Llantwit Major.

In the evening, I joined the Vale for Africa volunteer team at the Twmpath at St Donats Arts Centre where local ceilidh band Thingumijigs got us all dancing as we celebrated St David's Day in style, supported by the mayors of Llantwit Major, Cowbridge, Barry and the Lord Lieutenant, Morfudd Meredith.

We heard from optometrist Ted Arbutnot about the eye care project in the Tororo district of Eastern Uganda supported by local optometry teams from across the Vale who give their skills and commitment to this vital eye care initiative in partnership with local people, hospitals and a Ugandan community organisation.

So there were many acts as well as messages of hope and goodwill from our caring, compassionate and committed young people, volunteers and charities on St David's Day in the Vale.

These reflect the spirit of St David and open us up to new experiences, new ideas and new opportunities.

Cosmeston on track for rail network funding

TREES will be planted at Cosmeston Lakes Country Park after it secured funding from Network Rail's The Greater West Programme, a biodiversity offsetting scheme that supports the delivery of habitats planting and enhancement projects.

The planting of 1,350 trees will give a two-hectare extension to the southern edge of Cogan Wood that will include a mixed selection of fruit trees.

The majority of the planting will be carried out by a contractor, with some trees being planted by the Cosmeston Wildlife Group and volunteers.

The volunteers, along with the Vale Council's onsite ranger service, will help maintain the extension in the coming years.

Emmanuel Deschamps, Environment Manager for Network Rail said: "It is fantastic to be able to support this project. A new habitat will be created for a whole range of species and projects like this are vital in creating green spaces for people and wildlife to enjoy."

Cosmeston Lakes Country Park has a variety of habitats covering over 100 hectares of land and water, with some areas designated as Sites of Special Scientific Interest to protect rare and diverse plant and animal species.

£30,000 on offer from healthcare charity

CARDIFF & Vale Health Charity has allocated £30,000 in total to support third sector community healthcare improvement projects in the region.

The grants programme is administered by Glamorgan Voluntary Services (GVS) on behalf of Cardiff & Vale Health Charity. The priorities for this grant programme are the arts and wellbeing and social prescribing. This programme recognises the ability of the arts to bring communities together, to reach out to vulnerable people and diverse groups and to positively support wellbeing.

A spokesperson said: "We are looking for creative, innovative approaches which help people and communities overcome challenging social issues, as well as addressing physical and emotional needs."

"The arts" in this instance is used in its broadest sense, to encompass creative activities and approaches. The maximum that can be applied for is £6,000.

The grant opened for applications on February 25 with a deadline for submission of 12pm on Friday, March 22. Application forms and guidance are available from Glamorgan Voluntary Services (GVS), 01446 741706; enquiries@gvs.wales.

Overspend looms for Vale Council as more children are taken into care

GROWING numbers of children are going into care in the Vale of Glamorgan in what's been described as a "very disappointing outcome" for many families.

New figures have revealed that 276 looked-after children were in the council's care in February 2019 – a 50 per cent jump from 183 children at the same time in February 2016.

It was revealed last year that the council was paying £471,380 per year to keep just one 14-year-old boy in a secure unit after a pattern of "complex and challenging behaviour".

On February 27, Cllr Kevin Mahoney raised concerns in a Vale Council meeting about this cost – describing it as a "scandal".

He said: "We have had no proposals put forward by any of the officers on how we can address this."

"£470,000 for one child in secure accommodation. That's not far off a one per cent council tax increase for the entire county."

Council leader John Thomas said the spend on one child's care was decided by the courts and was out of the council's hands – and it was unfair to blame council officers.

He said: "It's in the hands of the courts where they place children. If we have not got the facilities at home we have to pay for it."

The council's budget for placements for looked-after children is expected to overspend by £500,000 this year as demand continues to grow.

A council report says: "This is due to the increasing complexities of the children currently being supported, which results in their placement in very high cost units."

Cllr Ian Johnson, Plaid Cymru leader on the authority, said: "It's a very disappointing outcome for so many families."

He asked if the council had approached the Welsh Government for more funding for looked-after children in the Vale.

Cllr Gordon Kemp, cabinet member for social care, health and leisure, said: "There's constant requests particularly through the WLGA on to Welsh Government for additional funding."

"The situation is difficult, I accept that. It needs to be borne in mind that the numbers do fluctuate over time."

"We need to look more at the situation of these children and the measures the council takes to keep the numbers as low as possible."

Lance Carver, Vale Council director of social services, said: "In common with the responsibilities of all local authorities, the council has a statutory duty to provide care and support where the needs of a child require this."

"Where a child is looked after, the local authority takes a role as corporate parent. These responsibilities include the identification of accommodation appropriate to the child's needs."

"The Vale Council supports children looked after in a range of settings, always where this is possible within their families, or where this cannot be achieved, within foster care or residential placements. The identification and funding of placements is a challenge for local authorities across Wales in the context of rising demand and complexity and limited available provision."

"We are working closely and productively with Welsh Government colleagues to ensure that we have safe numbers of children looked after and appropriate levels of funding."

Local democracy reporter

Fair bake for Fairtrade

BARRY Town Council is currently marking Fairtrade fortnight and its latest event takes place on Saturday, March 9.

A 'Fair bake coffee morning' is taking place at Cadoston Methodist Church from 10am to 12pm. There will be a range of products on sale, and donations will be welcomed.

Cowbridge U3A

THE next Cowbridge U3A monthly meeting will be a talk entitled 'Our American Odyssey' by Douglas Guy at 2pm on Wednesday, March 13 in Cowbridge Town Hall. Please note that this is a change from the published programme.

Visitors welcome for a small fee, which includes refreshments.

Bereavement café

A GROUP to support bereaved people in the Vale will hold its latest 'bereavement café' at its Bridgeman Road hospice on Friday, March 15, run by the Marie Curie Cardiff and the Vale Hospice's Family Support Team.

The café runs every third Friday of the month from 10 am to 12 noon and is open to those who are known to have had support or whose family have received support from the organisation within the Vale.

Team members Jo, Terry, and Dawn will run the sessions and offer support to those who need it and will also encourage that support among those visiting the café.

To find out more about the Bereavement Café, call the Marie Curie Hospice on 02920 42600 and ask to speak to the Family Support Team.

‘Incredible response’ for Vale Hygiene Bank since its launch two months ago

LOCAL people say they have been “amazed” by the swift and positive response to the Vale ‘hygiene bank’ which started in January this year.

The Hygiene Bank is a registered charity that helps women on low incomes or in poverty. People take hygiene products and toiletries to local donation points for them to be distributed locally.

Jo Wain, the Vale co-ordinator, said: “The kindness of people in the Vale is really evident. Any unopened hygiene and sanitary products are welcomed alongside much needed baby bits too.”

Caroline Morgan, who helped launch the Hygiene Bank in Wales, added: “If you are a local business who would be happy to have a donation station or has storage space that we could use, then please get in touch.”

“We’d also like to hear from people who would like to get involved in such a worthwhile cause.”

The donation points in the Vale are: phone box, Llantrithyd Road, St Hilary; Tesco Express, 44 High Street, Cowbridge; Co-op, St Athan; Cowbridge & Western Vale Group Practice (GP surgery) Cowbridge; The Clinic, Boverton Road, Llantwit

The Hair Studio in Llantwit Major run by Jacqui Jenkins is one of the local donation points for the Vale Hygiene Bank.

Will you be friends with Chandler?

CHANDLER is a handsome two-year-old Lurcher.

His confidence has improved immensely since coming into the rehoming centre and he loves a run off-lead in the field and playing with his doggy friends. Chandler does rely on other dogs for confidence, therefore, we are looking to rehome him with a dog already established in the home.

New owners will need to make a few visits to the centre to build up a relationship with Chandler, as he can be a little unsure meeting new people initially. Chandler is looking for a quiet home where he can settle into his new environment in his own time. He can live with children 11 years old and above.

Canine carer Louisa said: “It has been lovely to see Chandler coming out of his shell to play.”

“I am sure that once settled in a home his character will start to shine through, and he certainly will be a friend for life.”

To find out more Chandler, visit the website at www.dogstrust.org.uk.

Rambling from Valleys to beaches!

SEVEN walkers joined Rachel from Penarth and District Ramblers in wonderful unexpected sunny conditions below the derelict St Luke’s Church at Abercarn and they set off uphill by road, celebrating the fact that topcoats, gloves and hats were not required.

Upon reaching the top of the valley they stopped for morning refreshment overlooking the beautiful Cwm Gwyddon below them.

Heading across Mynydd Maen Common towards the transmitting masts on Mynydd Twyn-glas, the rugged pathway was almost completely dry, but deep ruts signified that off-road motorcyclists have caused a great deal of damage to the area.

Locating a grassy bank they enjoyed lunch in lovely warm sunshine before heading into woodland at Cefn Rhyswg to scuff up fallen beech leaves with their boots. A steep descent on woodland paths at Cefn Gofapi brought them through forestry for the steep descent to the footbridge over the fast flowing Nant Gwyddon, before the last steep climb to reach a road for the return to their start.

On a cool overcast morning, 11 walkers joined Robin and spaniel Pepper at Oxwich Bay car park and after gazing at the recent huge rockfall on the beach, they headed past the ancient church of St Illtyd surrounded by trees, in order to climb steps set into the hillside on Oxwich Point.

Following the well-worn undulating path through woodland which is now part of the Wales Coast Path they rounded the corner on to the open cliff path and paused for morning break just as the sun broke through.

With hazy views westwards towards Port-Eynon they tramped into the headwind below the tall craggy cliffs, to climb up to Slade on a footpath diversion.

A narrow path led them into the peaceful village of Horton where a man-made pathway through the sand dunes led them to their lunch stop at the dog-friendly Ship Inn at Port-Eynon, which was very busy with people out enjoying the lovely weather.

After a delicious luncheon it was time to return along the coast path, this time with the full tide crashing onto the craggy rocks. Climbing to reach the road at eastern Slade led them on past bright yellow daffodils and pretty snowdrops on the verges for the descent back through Oxwich village to their start.

On March 9, meet at 9am at Cogan Leisure Centre for an eight-mile moderate walk in the Skenfrith area; contact Su G on 07954 139 946.

On March 13, meet at 9am at Cogan for an 11-mile moderate walk in the Usk Valley to view the ancient yew trees at Bettws Newydd; contact William on 07528 701 952.

On March 14, Shortish Strides will be a morning walk from Penmark taking in five villages, meet at 9.40am at the Toby Inn to share transport as parking is limited; contact Joy on 01446 737131.

Fighting With My Family will make you submit to its many charms!

WHILE Ricky Gervais has been off making feature films, picking up acclaim wherever he goes, his former partner in crime, Stephen Merchant, has been steadily keeping himself busy taking unexpected roles (and shining) in the likes of Logan and The Girl in the Spider's Web.

But Merchant has gone back behind the camera and the laptop for his latest project, as he directs and writes the real life story of WWE wrestler Paige in Fighting With My Family.

Florence Pugh plays Saraya, who, along with her brother Zak (Jack Lowden) dreams of being a professional wrestler.

It's in the genes, as her parents Ricky and Julia (Nick Frost and Lena Headey) are in the wrestling world – but where they are in Norwich is far away from the glitz and the glamour of the American wrestling industry.

When Saraya and Zak get a shot at the big time with the WWE, the pair have to take their opportunities and battle to get the chance to shine at the very top of their chosen profession...

Wrestling and cinema don't always make for a good mix. Yes, Darren Aronofsky's The Wrestler was an exception to the rule, but films like Ready To Rumble, No Holds Barred and Walk Like A Panther have hardly set the cinematic world alight.

Given Stephen Merchant's involvement, you would expect Fighting With My Family to be a wholesale comedy, but in actual fact it's a warmly-told and hugely charming underdog story that, while not played wholly straight, has a degree of emotion that makes for a hugely satisfying viewing experience.

The world of wrestling is one that is easily mocked, yet this is a film that showcases the hard work that it takes to be successful, and the luck and effort it takes to reach the pinnacle of the WWE (the facial rebuke one character receives when uttering the phrase "wrestling is fake" is firm proof of this).

While Merchant slightly fudges the

SCREEN TALK with GARETH JAMIESON

Follow Screen Talk on Twitter - @GEMScreenTalk

path from a garage in Norwich to WrestleMania (the journey likely far more complex and trickier than displayed here) he does, however, highlight the sacrifices Paige made in order to achieve her dream.

Rather than a vanity project, this is a film that examines the life of the family surrounding her – the tough lives they led and how wrestling proved to be the family's salvation, a balm to soothe old wounds – and this is where the emotional heft comes from.

If Paige's rise is your traditional rags-to-riches tale (being told you're not good enough, grabbing victory from the jaws of defeat) then the tale of her brother Zak is equally as compelling.

Being told that the one thing he has been passionate about since the age of three isn't going to end up in him becoming a superstar wrestler is the more interesting strand in some ways, and works as a counterpoint to the (perceived) achievements of Paige.

It's a film that is surprisingly well-acted. Florence Pugh has shown in her work thus far an ability to inhabit many different characters, and here she has the attitude and desire, along with the hidden vulnerabilities, that make her stand out, while Jack Lowden as her brother is equally as good, a performance of real finesse.

Around them are a raft of lovely turns, whether it's Nick Frost and Lena Headey as the tough-but-tender parents, Vince Vaughn playing to type as Paige's smart-mouthed trainer and a small, but wonderful, cameo from Dwayne Johnson.

Merchant's big screen solo directorial debut certainly carries the hallmarks of his work with Gervais, but he shows a strong ability to carry the story without resorting to flashy camera work. The script may carry a few clichés but they work within the spirit of the film.

It may draw in the wrestling fans, but Fighting With My Family deserves to be seen by a broader audience. Its pull comes not from the wrestling element, but more from the universal themes it explores – the price of success, achieving your dreams no matter what the cost, stepping out from the shadow of your family and, as such, makes for a really pleasing viewing experience.

VERDICT: Fighting With My Family is an absolute treasure of a film – charming and heartwarming, it's a rags-to-riches-esque biopic that gets the balance just right. The performances all shine, in particular Florence Pugh and Jack Lowden, while Stephen Merchant proves a steady and sure hand on directorial and script duties.

Recommended.

Coastal exploration for the Valeways walkers

AS the warm sunny February weather faded away and March promised to come in like a lion, seven Valeways walkers met John at the Horseshoe Inn in Marcross for a walk to the lighthouse and beyond.

They set off along the road to reach Monkknash and turned towards the coast, passing the ruins of the Neath Abbey Grange Farm. They went over several restored stone stiles before crossing the fast flowing Nash brook.

They walked through the Blaen y Cwm nature reserve, noting the old mill before reaching the coast. Here they climbed up the steep slope, pausing half way to admire the view along the Heritage Coast towards Nash Point.

They were hit by a short shower as they walked along the cliff top but soon reached Cwm Nash for another drop down and climb up to pass the Cliff Top Café, optimistically open.

It was easy walking to reach the lighthouse, where Trinity House were carrying out maintenance work. A short coffee stop was taken before the group headed on towards Atlantic College.

The cliff path was narrow but part way along, the group came across a team from the council, who were cutting back the overgrown vegetation.

The walkers descended the path to reach St Donat's Bay and carried on along the cliff to reach King George's Field, named to commemorate the Silver Jubilee of King George V.

Turning inland, the group walked through the grounds of Atlantic College and St Donat's Church. They walked up Cwm Hancome to arrive at Parc Farm before crossing fields and passing Marcross Farm to arrive back at the pub, where food and drink waited.

The group would like to thank the landlady and staff of the Horseshoe Inn for their hospitality and the use of the car park.

The Coffi Pig loses concession in the Vale

A FATHER and daughter team who ran a catering business from a converted horsebox at Ogmores-by-Sea beach have thanked dozens of well-wishers for their support after they lost their pitch.

Ian and Megan Llewellyn, who live in Llantwit Major, had run the popular business there for two and a half years but missed out during a tendering process.

They are now out of work and Mr Llewellyn said: "It was massively disappointing to miss out because we had built up the business there. However, the support of the local community has been superb."

"Our contract ran until Thursday, February 28 and we weren't notified until 10.30am on that morning that we'd missed out."

"We'll either have to get other jobs or get another pitch, but they are difficult to come by."

"On a positive note, we've had an incredible two or so years. We've made life-long friendships, met some amazing people and be warmly welcomed by the Ogmores community."

Ian and Megan Llewellyn.

When the business announced what had happened on Facebook there were dozens of supportive remarks.

One poster said: "Ogmores just won't be the same without The Coffi Pig. You and Meg have done a fantastic job building your business and you don't deserve this."

Another person said: "We have enjoyed the quality service, products and fantastic customer service. You will be sorely missed by us and the other residents of Ogmores-by-Sea."

One woman said the tendering process should involve more than just the 'highest bidder' and that things like quality of service and unique selling points should be taken into consideration.

Mike Clogg of the Vale Council said: "We appreciate this has come as extremely disappointing news to the previous tenants, The Coffi Pig, and we would like to thank them for their excellent service over the last two years. "As a public authority it is necessary for us to subject our concessions to a competitive tender process every few years to ensure that other businesses have the opportunity to trade on council land and that we continue to receive best value for our council taxpayers."

"On this occasion another operator provided us with a better offer through the tendering process and the council is obligated to accept this tender from a business perspective."

"We look forward to working with the new concession holder and also hope that The Coffi Pig operators will be able to find a suitable alternative location for their operation, which will ensure their continued success."

He added: "Losing a concession is always difficult, particularly for well-established tenants, but the Coffi Pig owners will have been aware from the outset that their contract was due to expire on February 28 this year and that there was always a chance of their tender being unsuccessful due to the competitive tendering arrangements applied to such concessions."

Time running out for the 'Save Llancarfan School' protestors

THE Cabinet of the Vale Council is standing firm in its intention to close Llancarfan Primary School, although the cabinet prefers to call it a case of "migrating" pupils to a new school in Rhoose.

Opposition to the closure was a factor last Thursday when the Vale Council's budget for 2019/2020 was voted down by a meeting of the full council.

Recently-elected Rhoose ward member Andrew RT Davies, and three other Conservatives voted against, although the closure was not the only factor in their decision.

Nevertheless, the cabinet voted to go ahead with the closure on Monday, March 4. It will now proceed to the Scrutiny Committee for discussion and then return to the cabinet for a final determination.

The GEM understands that Cllr Gordon Kemp, who represents Rhoose and is a member of the cabinet, proposed that the decision be deferred for 12 months, but this was defeated.

Andy Farquharson, a spokesman for the campaign group, said:

"We are disappointed but unsurprised by the cabinet's decision, as we've long suspected it was a foregone conclusion.

"Our hopes now rest with the Learning and Culture Scrutiny Committee to properly challenge the educational and business case for the new school before final approval.

"The objection report presented by officers to the cabinet was a lengthy rehash of their previous selective reports and did not properly address our concerns or adequately consider alternative options.

At a time when the Vale Council is facing a difficult budget decision later this week, it does seem a waste of tax-payer's money to proceed with building a new school with significant surplus places, which will also divide the community in Rhoose to the detriment of Rhws Primary.

"By not properly holding officers to account, the cabinet has let down people right across the Rhoose ward, set a dangerous precedent which endangers all rural school communities throughout Wales, and as an action committee we will continue to explore options for a legal challenge, as well take the matter up directly with Welsh Government."

Cllr Andrew RT Davies, said: "I'm bitterly disappointed with the decision taken on Llancarfan School by the cabinet at the Vale Council - regrettably, common sense did not prevail.

"However, as a councillor for the ward I will continue to press the case for a viable alternative to these plans - the fight for Llancarfan School is by no means over."

Storm Freya arrives at Barry Island

STRONG winds on March 3 heralded the arrival of Storm Freya along western stretches of the UK coastline.

Local photographer Paul Murphy took a photograph of Storm Freya arriving at Barry Island.

He said: "The sea was really angry and I think the winds were about 40mph to 50mph."

Recorded wind speeds were around 19 knots with gusts up to around 25 knots.

Expert advice could help to avoid dispute

BRENDAN Sweeney, of David Prosser & Co Solicitors, writes:

It is estimated that 60 per cent of the UK population does not have a will.

A will takes effect on your death, and is an instruction as to what is to happen to your estate.

Probate disputes and challenges to wills are becoming a growth area, which often leads to substantial costs.

We now live in a world where family relationships are often very complex, and expert advice regarding the drafting of a will is essential.

A professional advisor can also advise you in relation to inheritance tax, and how you plan to minimise potential liabilities to it.

It is important that people are fully aware of their duties and financial responsibilities when they make a will, to ensure that they comply with the technicalities that are required to have a valid will.

The cost of a professionally-drafted will, after taking advice, is considerably less than the costs that can be incurred if there is a dispute regarding your financial affairs after your death.

Substantial costs can also be saved by taking professional advice early, and putting in place powers of attorney – whereby you appoint trusted people to make decisions about your property and financial affairs and health and welfare, if you lose capacity.

The people appointed are made fully aware of their rights and responsibilities.

Retirement planning and the options that are available to you...

WE'D all like to make the most of our retirement, and it's important to think about the whole of your finances when planning for the enjoyable retirement you're looking forward to.

You may be considering a lifetime mortgage.

This allows you to release capital from your home without you having to move. The money released could be used for whatever you want, for example: repaying your existing mortgage or other debts to reduce your monthly outgoings; home improvements; a well-earned holiday; helping the family, or just supporting your income with occasional treats.

With a lifetime mortgage, the loan and interest would be repaid through the eventual sale of your home, subject to the terms and conditions of the provider. If you are thinking of taking out an equity release plan you will need to weigh up the advantages and disadvantages fully.

It is a key criterion for those lenders who are members of the Equity Release Council that the borrower has separate legal representation. We are the only Solicitor member firm based in Wales, acting for borrowers, who are also members of the Equity Release Council.

Independent legal advice is one of the key features of the Council's Code of Conduct and is regarded as an essential aspect of consumer protection. Our role is to ensure that you understand the nature of an equity release contract, and proceed with full knowledge of the implications, as well as the legal obligations of the Plan.

We are happy to meet with you and any close relatives you would like to be involved and talk about everything in detail to discuss your options.

Call our Equity Release team now on 01446 774151 or visit us at www.hopkinslawltd.com.

Toenail cutting - and so much more

WENDY'S Professional Toenail Cutting Service does what it says on the tin - with a whole lot more thrown in for free.

Yes, your toes will be trimmed by a fully qualified professional, but what is really on offer is companionship from someone who has great experience of looking after the elderly.

After working in the caring professions for many years, Wendy was recently trained by the NHS and has been calling on clients in the Bridgend, Porthcawl, Barry and any areas in between for some time now.

Word of mouth has meant that she has built up a number of satisfied customers.

When she pays a house call, she brings her previous experience to bear, and understands that for many elderly people, the social contact is as important as keeping their toes tidy.

An hour's visit costs from £15, and Wendy carries references, her CRB check and insurance information with her.

Wendy's Professional Toe Nail Cutting Service

Toe nails cut, filed & massaged in the comfort of your own home!

Destination shopping

NOW is the time we start to think about changing our wardrobes over from autumn winter to a lighter spring summer look, when you start going through what you have and deciding what needs updating call in and see us as we have something for every occasion.

We have had lots of deliveries, including the lovely Capri range, gorgeous tunics, day dresses and maxi dresses in super colours, pale grey mixed with lime and navy a perfect combination, team either with a pair of Pomodoro pull-on crops and you ready for any occasion.

The ever-popular Ficelle trousers arrived last week and are selling fast, fab colours this season perfect for teaming up with anything, cobalt blue, stunning red, green, and of course the brilliant neutrals.

As well as that we've also had the Pomodoro pull on also in super colours and I'm very glad to add another range called Anna Montana same lovely fabric as the Ficelle and Pomodoro, but with an added detail on the hem, call in and see for yourself.

The colours this season are really fabulous.

Bianca never fails to please, the latest delivery is a gorgeous combination of navy and orange, printed trousers teamed with a twin set in orange or navy, very sophisticated.

Also in the same print a really gorgeous day dress, with pockets. What more could a girl want?

We have just received some lovely Olsen linen, which probably means the return from the "Beast from the East".

Seriously if you like linen you'll love this range. Marble is one of our best sellers, the jeans are in a rainbow of colours all with coordinated tops and skirts, if you like this range call in soon as it's flying out the door as quickly as it comes in.

Get ready for the March winds and April showers with the lovely selection of outer wear, gilets, water proof coats, dressier macs and lovely puffer jackets some that pack into a little bag... Phew I'm exhausted now.

The charity fashion shows start next week; if you would like to attend any please contact the shop for further details, hope to see you soon.

Cowbridge choir in fine voice in Taunton

COWBRIDGE Male Voice Choir were invited by Taunton Deane Male Voice Choir to sing at the Mayor of Taunton Deane's spring-time charity concert on March 2.

The other guest for the evening was soprano Emma Edwards, who was originally from Llanharan but now lives in Taunton.

Taunton opened the evening singing 'Divine Brahmas', 'Softly as I Leave You' and 'Gloria' by Mozart.

They were followed by Emma, who sang 'Ave Maria', 'Sae Tu M'ami, Se Sospri' and a wonderful rendition of 'Myfamyw'. She impressed with the quality and clarity of her singing.

It was now the turn of Cowbridge to keep up the standard.

With traditional Welsh hwyl they started with 'Cwm Rhondda' following this with 'O Gymru'. In contrast to these and other rousing numbers they sang, for the first time in public, Alwyn Humphries' arrangement of 'If We Only Have Love' from the musical Jacques Brel is Alive and Well and Living in Paris.

The first half was rounded off by Taunton and Cowbridge coming together and singing 'The Rose'.

Cowbridge opened the second half by singing 'Calon Lan', and ending with 'National Glory', a celebration of the Six Nations Rugby arranged by their musical director Rhiannon Williams.

Emma Edwards sang her second set including 'The Turtle Dove', a traditional English folk song and ended with a song from Phantom of the Opera.

Taunton then returned to the stage with 'I have a Dream' and 'Nothing like a Dame' among others; they then combined with Emma in 'Let it Be Me'. The evening ended with Cowbridge and Taunton combining as a choir of about 100 with Emma in 'Morte Christie'.

Cowbridge will travel to London to sing at the Best of Wales Gala Ball in The Grosvenor Square Hotel on March 8: proceeds in aid of Velindre.

The choir's next home performance will be in Holy Cross Church, Cowbridge. Tickets from Barnes Dry Cleaners Cowbridge or any choir member.

Pencoe girl has a shot at stardom in Diana musical

A young woman from Pencoed, Natasha John, has been selected to head the cast of a new musical based on the life of Princess Diana, entitled Call Me Diana.

However, the show has not been given the green light yet, so Natasha will be getting ready for a 'Big Show' in London in September, when she will perform at a showcase event in Leicester Square - aimed at attracting investors.

It won't be Natasha's first 'Big Show' either - because she was surprised by Michael McIntyre, on his 'Big Show' in April 2016. On that show, she had the chance to sing with Michael Ball.

When he saw that show, Brian Watson, one of the writers and lyricist of 'Call Me Diana', made a note and he called her in January.

Natasha sings with Michael Ball on the Michael McIntyre Big Show.

He thought the Welsh hairdresser might be just the person to play Diana, Princess of Wales. Her classical voice training was such that Brian talked it over with his co-writer, the show's composer, David Smart, and the show's director, John DeGaetano and they unanimously agreed to ask Natasha to audition.

"You know when it's right, when you've tears in your eyes and the hairs on the back of your neck are standing up", said Brian Watson.

His sentiments were confirmed when David Smart replied: "There's no doubt about it, we've found our star".

The Leicester Square Theatre is booked for the showcase in September this year. Brian added: "This long-awaited tribute is fit for a Princess, and now our wonderful star of the show is in place."

According to the production team, the death of the Princess will be handled in a delicate way, leaving the finale of the show uplifting, a celebration of the legacy Diana, Princess of Wales left behind.

The September showcase in London's West End is a sampling of the full production. The show will be performed to a limited number of ticket holders along with invited investors, producers, the media and special guests to build support for the full staged production spectacular.

Vale Council are to consider amended budget this Friday

THE Vale Council Leader, Cllr John Thomas has said an amended budget will go to a full council meeting this Friday, March 8, and that the proposed level of council tax, 4.9 per cent, will remain the same.

In the last few days Cllr Thomas has had discussions with the Labour group which has agreed to support him - in return for concessions. Last week, the council, a Conservative-Independent administration, lost a vote to get its budget for 2019-20 approved after four Conservatives joined opposition councillors to vote it down.

This week, Cllr John Thomas confirmed he had been in talks with opposition councillors to resolve matters. He said: "Following last week's budget vote I held discussions with members of my own group, including those who did not support the budget proposals as well as several other councillors."

"Talks continued in the days that followed and I am pleased to say that new budget proposals will now be presented to a special meeting of full council on Friday. These will include new measures to address a number of issues raised at the full council meeting and subsequently - such as an additional £100,000 for supporting local bus services and setting aside additional money to support community uses in the development of St Paul's Church in Penarth."

He said he had also agreed to a request from opposition councillors to review a number of areas of the council's work. Cllr Thomas went on: "If agreed on Friday, this new budget will represent a victory for grown-up politics in the Vale. Reaching this agreement has not been about doing deals, but rather being mature and perceptive enough to consider the needs of all the communities we serve."

The leader of the Labour group, Cllr Neil Moore, said he and his colleagues had opposed the original budget because they wanted to make a stand on the mismanagement of budgets. He said: "However, I had not expected that members of the Conservative group would vote against their own budget and as a result it was not approved.

"Due to the unprecedented event I agreed, along with Cllr Lis Burnett, to have discussions with the leadership of the council and negotiated an amended budget, which includes issues that we felt to be important for the people of the Vale."

"We did so knowing that unless a budget was agreed, it would be both irresponsible and illegal; and would leave vital services in jeopardy and the most vulnerable unprotected. "We have negotiated changes in the budget that included supporting buses that were at risk of stopping, along with support for communities, such as seed funding for the St Paul's Community Space Group in Penarth, which have been included in the amended budget."

"However, we also required other priorities to be included, outside the budget report. They are the creation of specific funding to refurbish and upgrade older and Victorian schools that do not qualify for 21st century funding; the removal of proposed town centre on-street parking charges; a review of LED replacement of non-standard lights; increased scrutiny to address current non-delivery of projects and savings; an audit of community facilities in Gibbonsdown and an equal geographic distribution of strong communities grant funding."

He said it would be "irresponsible" not to agree a budget and that's why he and his colleagues would ensure it was agreed. The leader of the Plaid Cymru group, Cllr Ian Johnson, said he thought it was unfair to ask people to pay more money for fewer council services when the Vale Council has substantial reserves:

He explained: "Disappointingly, the Conservatives and Labour voted together against our sensible and constructive suggestion of a 3.5 per cent increase in last week's meeting."

"We have already seen both Tories and Labour voting together for a 10 per cent increase on Barry Town Council, and understand that they have been meeting this week to talk about voting together on the Vale Council as well."

Cllr Gwyn John of Llantwit First Independents said that unless car parking proposals were dropped, he wouldn't back the budget. He said: "I am pleased that some money is promised towards bus services in the western Vale, but it is unlikely that I will support the new proposals on Friday unless Cllr Thomas scraps his plans to introduce car parking charges at Llantwit Major."

"If he expects residents of Llantwit Major to pay car parking charges on top of a 4.9 per cent increase in the budget then he can think again."

Cllr Thomas's decision to rely on Labour support will come as a bitter blow to the four Conservatives who helped to vote the budget down: Vincent Bailey, Janice Charles, George Carroll and Andrew RT Davies. It is understood they raised concerns with the Vale Leader over council tax levels in future years and called for a deferral on a decision over the possible relocation of Llanfarcf School in Rhooose.

They released a statement early this week in which they said: "It would be wrong to look to the Labour Party for solutions to the problems created by a flawed funding system", adding that they hoped that a Conservative budget could be delivered on Friday.

A Welsh Government spokesperson said councils should avoid delays in setting a budget: "Under the Local Government Finance Act 1992 councils must undertake the calculations which underpin the budget and the council tax by March 11."

"While a budget is not invalid if it's agreed later than this date, councils cannot set their council tax rate and raise their own income until they have agreed their budgets. Councils will want to avoid the uncertainty delay causes to local people and businesses."

City Deal hands out the cash for new transport projects

THE Cardiff Capital Region City Deal has listed the first series of projects where cash will be spent, and these projects will focus on transport and infrastructure, with each council getting around £3 million spent in its area.

The £3 million intended for the Vale Council area will be spent on the development of a bus and rail interchange at Barry Dock Rail Station, complete with four to five bus bays, provision for taxis and the potential extension of the existing Park and Ride site. The £1.2 billion City Deal is financed, in the main, by the Welsh Government and the UK Government, but the 10 local authorities in the area are each contributing as well.

The Vale Council, for instance, is being asked to contribute around £.1 million each year over the next 10 years.

The project, named

'Metro Plus' is aimed at unceasing the number of passengers who use the railway each day from 40,000 to 80,000 across the city deal region.

The Leader of BCBC, Cllr Huw David, is the chair of the CCR Transport Authority. He said: "The schemes proposed through the Metro Plus programme have been drawn from the priorities of individual councils and mirror the 'Metro spine' – creating both short and longer-term opportunities for communities throughout south east Wales.

"The 10 proposed schemes within Phase 1 of the wider Metro Plus programme represent a diverse range of projects, with transport as the central component for enabling growth, expansion and opportunity to be unlocked.

"Metro Plus provides the potential to develop a whole programme of activity that contributes to, complements and enhances Metro and mobility delivery in the region."

Flower demonstration for floral society members

FLORIST Nicola Budding Designs in Barry received a warm welcome on a warm February afternoon at Barry Floral Society's recent demonstration day.

Nicola said: "It was a privilege to be invited to provide the club with a flower demonstration. I thoroughly enjoyed talking them through and demonstrating different arrangements, floristry techniques and a few trade secrets.

"These ladies certainly know their stuff and I've met some lovely and knowledgeable members. They could not have been more welcoming."

Local company helps build Rhoose Lego Club

TARMAC'S Aberthaw plant is helping Rhoose Community Library expand its Lego Club after donating essential storage containers.

The club, which started last year and now welcomes around 20 young children each week, received the donation of four huge Lego containers to house their growing collection.

Set up to give local youngsters the chance to take part in various fun challenges to help improve maths, architecture and engineering skills, the club continues to grow but is reliant on donations in order to continue running.

Club volunteer, Christine Jakeway, said: "We are thrilled to have the support of Tarmac and without such donations, we simply wouldn't be able to put on the club each week. "Children think they're coming to play and build with Lego, but they're doing so much more. We have activities and challenges that require them to put their skills to the test in a fun environment.

"Tarmac has played a huge supporting role to the library and it's great that the team at Aberthaw is supporting us to put on more at the library so that it remains a facility for everyone in the local Rhoose community."

Kara Bennett, Tarmac Aberthaw's environmental co-ordinator, said: "When we found out about the Lego Club, we jumped at the chance to donate the storage boxes. We hope the club will encourage young people from all backgrounds in the community to develop in the areas of innovation and engineering.

"In our industry we know first-hand the importance of children playing with things like Lego – it really does open their minds and tests their various skills – you never know where it will help them in the future!"

Lego Club runs every Monday and Friday between 3.30pm-4.30pm at Rhoose Community Library.

A traditional Welsh welcome at Rhoose Library

ST David's Day was celebrated in traditional style at Rhoose Community Library.

Volunteers dressed in Welsh costume and refreshments including homemade Welsh cakes went down a treat. There was also a very successful raffle of authentic Welsh produce. The event raised £145 for library funds.

Trussell Trust managers meet Vale AM

VALE AM Jane Hutt met Trussell Trust operations manager for Wales and south west England Susan Lloyd-Selby and area manager Kate Gronow recently to discuss their work supporting foodbanks in the Vale and across the UK.

Ms Hutt learned that the latest statistics suggest that foodbanks have experienced a record demand.

Ms Hutt said: "I understand that benefits issues, including the wait for a first Universal Credit payment, is a key trigger for a foodbank referral. I chair a Universal Credit Round Table and I know that referrals to foodbanks have gone up in the Vale as Universal Credit is rolled out."

"It is great to meet the Trussell Trust key managers who are based in Barry but work widely across the country."

Planning approved for Hood Road goods shed development

PLANNING permission has been granted, subject to conditions, for the conversion of the historic Hood Road goods shed in Barry and construction of a "steel container village" alongside.

The Goodsheds development will become home to a mix of businesses including restaurants, a bar and brewery, a tech hub and 11 live-work residential units. There will be a total of 40 containers available for pop-up restaurants and small businesses.

Separate proposals on the same site include the delivery of up to 42 rental properties.

A single storey drive-through coffee bar and space for a farmers market are also proposed. Construction is expected to begin within months.

Domestic abuse referral service shortlisted for award

A HOUSING scheme providing support for victims of domestic abuse in the Vale has been shortlisted for a national award.

The Vale Council's Domestic Abuse, Assessment and Referral (DARRC) service has been recognised in the UK Housing Awards' 'Innovator of the Year' category.

Launched in 2018, the service aims to reduce the number of repeat incidents of domestic abuse by identifying, from the first instance, what support is most suitable for the resident.

The Council hopes to achieve an improved support pathway for the service user, improve efficiency by working closely with partner agencies – and to lower the risk of the incident escalating.

During the service's first six months, more than 1,100 referrals came in, with 89 per cent referred to the appropriate professionals for support.

Motor-cycle pilot 'to deter weaving and dodging'

MOTORCYCLES will soon be able to drive in bus lanes in the Vale.

The council is set to introduce a temporary traffic order for up to 18 months to allow motor-cycles in bus lanes, to deter them from weaving through traffic jams and dodging oncoming traffic.

If the pilot, which could last up to 18 months, is deemed successful motorcyclists would be able to drive in bus lanes permanently.

The Vale Council cabinet will consider the experimental traffic regulation order over the next two months.

The rules on whether motorbikes can use bus lanes without risking fines vary from one local authority to another.

Motorbikes are allowed to use bus lanes in Cardiff after the city's council held a six-month trial in 2015.

Dioch ichi am gymryd yr amser i ymgysylltu â ni, naill ai trwy gymryd rhan yn ein pleidlais ar-lein neu adael eich sylwadau. Llwyddwyd i ymgysylltu â mwy na 1000 o bobl yn Y Barri, sy'n gyfradd ymateb ryfeddol.

Trwy gydol y broses ymgysylltu, mae'r Cyngor wedi cydnabod y bu rhai camganyddiadau ynghylch gwaith y Cyngor Tref ac fe hoffem gymryd y cyfle hwn i gynnig thywfaint rhagor o wybodaeth ichi.

Gwranddo ar eich llais

Beth wnaethom ni olyn?

Gofynnodd Ymgynghoriad Cyllideb y Cyngor Tref a oedd trigolion Y Barri yn hapus iddo gynyddu'r gyllideb 89c y mis (codiad o 20%) er mwyn gweithredu ei gynlluniau a'i wasanaethau.

Beth oedd eich oedberth?

Yr ymateb gan y cyhoedd oedd nad oeddent yn croesawu'r cynnydd hwn. Roedd llawer o ddrysych ynghylch cyfrifoldebau'r Cyngor Tref a chyfrifoldebau Cyngor Bro Morgannwg, ac o'r herwydd nid oedd rhai sylwadau yn berthnasol i gyllideb y Cyngor Tref. Awgrymodd rhai y dylid gwario llai ar Dŷ Gwylt, goleuadau Nadolig ac arddangosiadau blodau, ond roedd eraill yn hapus i dalu i gefnogi'r rhain. Roedd rhai sylwadau yn dangos camganyddiad neu gamddealltwriaeth ynghylch cynigion y gyllideb a gwaith y Cyngor Tref.

Beth wnaethom ni?

O'r herwydd, gwrandawodd Cyngor Tref Y Barri ar y pryderon hyn ac fe gyfarfu ar ddydd Llun, 11 Chwefror 2019 a phenderfynodd gynyddu'r gyllideb 10.04% - cynnydd o 44c y mis ar gyfer trigolion Y Barri, sy'n golygu y bydd talwr Treth Cyngor Band D yn Y Barri yn cyfrannu £57.86 i'r Cyngor Tref am y flwyddyn nesaf: cost o £4.82 y mis.

Pa arbedion wnaethom ni?

Cafodd arbedion eu gwneud trwy leihau cyllidebau ar gyfer llungopio, argraffu, deunydd swyddfa, lletygarwch y Maer a rhoddion dinesig, digwyddiadau corfforaethol, Goleuadau Nadolig, ymgysylltu cymunedol a threth ddefnyddio arian wrth gefn i dalu am welliannau i'r Fynwent (bydd ffens newydd sydd ei hangen yn costio £24,500).

Penderfynodd y Cyngor beidio cyflawni unrhyw brosiectau newydd yn y Fynwent nac yn Neuadd Pioneer ac i beidio neilltuo cyllideb o £50,000 ar gyfer cyflwyno gwasanaethau newydd i'r dyfodol. Mae'r Cyngor wedi lleihau faint o arian mae'n ei roi wrth gefn ar gyfer offer a pheiriannau a gwaith atgyweirio ffordd yn y Fynwent. Dylid nodi y dylai fod gan y Cyngor rhwng 3 a 12 mis o gostau gweithredol wedi'u cadw wrth gefn er mwyn cynnal llywodraethiant ariannol da.

Ar beth fyddwn ni'n canolbwyntio eleni?

Mae'r prosiectau mawr yn y flwyddyn ariannol nesaf yn cynnwys symudi swyddfeydd i Neuadd y Dref fel y gallwn fod yn fwy canolog a hygyrch i'r cyhoedd yn ogystal â gortfen adeiladu Canolfan Cymunedol newydd yn Rhodfa'r Fynwent (mewn partneriaeth a Chyngor Bro Morgannwg).

Beth mae'r Cyngor Tref yn wneud?

Cyngor Tref Y Barri yw eich Cyngor lleol ac mae'n gorff cwrbl ar wahân i Cyngor Bro Morgannwg. Y Cyngor Tref yw'r haen fawr lleol o lywodraeth, ac o'r herwydd ef sy'n delio â materion lleol sy'n effaithio'r Barri ac sy'n darparu rhai o wasanaethau cymunedol lleol Y Barri. Mae Cyngor Tref Y Barri yn gyfrifol am redeg Mynwent Merthyr Dyfan, Neuadd Cymunedol Pioneer, swyddfa Maer y Dref, digwyddiadau a gweithgareddau lleol. Mae'r Cyngor yn ariannu'r arddangosiad Tân Gwylt, Goleuadau Nadolig mewn ardaloedd siopa, ciniawau Nadolig i bobl hyn, y Neuadd Coffa ac mae'n rhoi grantiau i fudiadau cymunedol lleol i gyflawni gweithgareddau. Mae'r Cyngor Tref yn cynnig sylwadau ar bob cas cynllunio ond ni all wneud penderfyniadau ar gynllunio. Cyngor Bro Morgannwg yw'r Awdurdod Unedol ac mae ganddo ddyletswyddau statudol y mae'n rhaid iddo eu cyflawni megis gwasanaethau cymdeithasol addysg, prifysgol, sbectol (i enwi rhai yn unig).

Mae Cyngor Tref Y Barri yn ariannu'r Goleuadau Nadolig ar y Stryd Fawr, Heol Holton a Chilgant y Parc. Mae'r goleuadau Nadolig yn cael eu cefnogi a'u gworthfawrogi'n fawr gan fasnachwyr sy'n ysgwyddo costau'r trydan rhyngddynt. Mae masnachwyr y Stryd Fawr a Heol Holton hefyd yn trefnu'r digwyddiadau sy'n gysylltiedig â threth'r goleuadau Nadolig ymlaen, er enghraifft, a bydd yn codi arian ar gyfer y digwyddiadau hyn trwy gydol y flwyddyn. Mae'n rhwng 3 a 12 mis o gostau gweithredol wedi'u cadw wrth gefn er mwyn cynnal llywodraethiant ariannol da.

Mae Cyngor Tref Y Barri wedi ariannu arddangosiad Tân Gwylt Y Barri a drefnwyd gan y Clwb Rotari am nifer o flynyddoedd. Mae'r Cyngor Tref yn ariannu cost y tân gwylt y system sain, yswiriant ac ati, ac mae'r Clwb Rotari yn codi arian trwy gydol y flwyddyn er mwyn cyflawni eu nodau elusennol. Eleni, cefnogodd Bord Gron Y Barri y digwyddiad trwy drefnu adloniant ychwanegol y bwriad yw y bydd digwyddiad Fiesta Tân Gwylt 2019 yn adeiladu ar un y llynedd. Roedd cyfraniad Cyngor Tref Y Barri y llynedd yn £10,000 er mwyn garneud y digwyddiad yn un rhad ac am ddim i'r cyhoedd ac yn un cynhwysol y gallai pawb ei fwyhau.

Roedd yr arddangosiadau blodau yn Heol Holton yn fenter a gyflwynwyd i'r Grŵp Siopa'n Lleol gan fasnachwyr Heol Holton oedd yn teimlo y byddai gwella golwg yr heol yn gwella'r profiad siopa. Mae'r costau cychwynnol wedi bod yn uwch oherwydd y burn rhaid prynu'r potiau plannu, costau cyflenwi a'r costau cynnal a chadw parhaus y mae'r Cyngor yn eu talu i Cyngor Bro Morgannwg i'w cynnal a chadw yn rhan o'u Hys-adran Parciau. Felly, bydd y potiau plannu yn costio llai eleni. Y cynlluniau i'r dyfodol yw trefnu tîm o wirfoddolwyr i ofalu am yr arddangosiadau er mwyn lleihau costau fwy fyth.

Sut allwch chi ddawnd eich rhawd?

- o Rhewch adborth inni ar ein gwasanaethau
- o Calli y cyhoedd ddiol i gyfarfodydd y Cyngor Tref
- o Mae agenda a chofnodion ar y wefan ac yn y Llyfrgell
- o Os ydych yn fasnachydd lleol gallwch ymuno â'r grŵp Siopa'n Lleol
- o Os ydych yn grŵp cymunedol, cysylltwch â'n Swyddog Datblygu Cymunedol i drafod eich syniadau

Thank you for taking the time to engage with us, either by taking part in our online poll or leaving your comments. We engaged with over 1000 people in Barry which is a fantastic response rate.

Throughout the engagement process, the Council recognises that there have been a few misconceptions regarding the work of the Town Council and we would like to take this opportunity to provide you with some further information.

Listening to your voice

What did we ask?

The Town Council's Budget Consultation asked if residents of Barry were happy for the budget to be increased by 89p per month (a 20% increase) in order to deliver its plans and services.

What did you feedback?

The response from the public was that this increase was not favourable. There was a lot of confusion about the Town Council's responsibilities and the Vale of Glamorgan Council's responsibilities so some comments were not relevant to the Town Council's budget. Some suggested spending less on Fireworks, Christmas lights and floral displays; whilst others were happy to pay to support these. Some comments showed a misperception or misunderstanding of the budget proposals and the work of the Town Council.

What did we do?

As a result, Barry Town Council listened to these concerns and met on Monday, 11 February 2019 and resolved to increase the budget by 10.04% - an increase of 44p per month to Barry residents, which means that a Band D Council Tax payer in Barry will be contributing £57.86 to the Town Council for next year; a cost of £4.82 per month.

What savings did we make?

Efficiencies and savings have been made by reducing budgets for photocopying, printing, stationery, Mayor's hospitality and civic gifts, corporate events, Christmas Lights, community engagement and by using reserves to fund improvements to the Cemetery (a partial new fence required will cost £24,500).

The Council resolved not to deliver any new projects at the Cemetery or at Pioneer Hall and not to put aside a £50,000 budget for future new services to be delivered. The Council has reduced how much it is putting into reserves for equipment and machinery and road repairs in the Cemetery.

It should be noted that the Council should have between 3 and 12 months operating costs held in reserves in order to uphold good financial governance.

What will we focus on this year?

Large projects in the coming financial year include moving the offices to the Town Hall so that we can be more central and accessible to the public as well as completing the building of a new Community Centre at Cemetery Approach (in partnership with the Vale of Glamorgan Council).

What does the Town Council do?

Barry Town Council is your local Council and a completely separate body to the Vale of Glamorgan Council. The Town Council is the most local layer of government and as such deals with local issues that affect Barry and offers some of Barry's local community services. Barry Town Council is responsible for running Merthyr Dylan Cemetery, Pioneer Community Hall, the office of the Town Mayor, local events and activities. The Council funds the Fireworks display, Christmas Lights in shopping areas, older people's Christmas dinners, the Memorial Hall and gives grants to local community groups to deliver activities. The Town Council comments on every planning application but cannot make decisions on planning. The Vale of Glamorgan Council is the Unitary Authority and has statutory duties that it must deliver such as social services, education, highways, refuse (to name but a few).

Barry Town Council funds the Christmas Lights at High Street, Holton Road and Park Crescent. The Christmas lights are supported and appreciated greatly by Traders who fund the electricity costs between themselves. High Street and Holton Road Traders also organise the events which accompany the Christmas lights switch on, for example and will fundraise for these events throughout the year. They often apply to the Town Council for financial support for these events too. The Vale of Glamorgan Council is responsible for road closures.

Barry Town Council has funded the Barry Firework display for a number of years organised by the Rotary Club. The Town Council funds the cost of the fireworks, the PA system, insurance etc, whilst the Rotary Club fundraises throughout the year to deliver their charitable aims. This year, Barry Round Table supported the event by organising additional entertainment; it is planned that the 2019 Fireworks Fiesta event will build on last year's. Barry Town Council's contribution last year was £10,000 in order to make the event free to the public and inclusive for all to enjoy.

The floral displays at Holton Road were an initiative brought to the Shop Local Group by traders of Holton Road who felt improving the appearance of the road would improve the shopping experience. The initial costs have been higher due to the purchase of the planters, delivery and the ongoing maintenance costs that the Council pays the Vale of Glamorgan Council to maintain as part of their Parks Division. Therefore, the planters will cost less this year. The future plans are to enlist a team of volunteers to maintain the displays to reduce the costs even further.

How can you have your say?

- o Give us feedback on our services
- o The public can attend Town Council meetings
- o Agendas and minutes are on the website and in the Library
- o If you are a local trader you can join the Shop Local group
- o If you are a community group, get in touch with our Community Development Officer with your ideas

Rotary club celebrates St David's Day

MEMBERS of the Rotary Club of Barry and their guests celebrated St David's Day in style with a breakfast in Brynhill Golf Club early on the morning of March 1.

President Jill Osborne welcomed everyone, especially guest speaker RIBI national president elect Donna Wallbank, thanking them all for their support so early in the morning! Associate member Beth Longley then said Grace in Welsh.

After a most appetising full Welsh breakfast prepared by chef Mark and his staff, president Jill introduced Donna Wallbank who gave a most interesting talk on her Rotary journey and spoke of many of the projects that Rotary is involved in, encouraging everyone to work together for a peaceful world, while also paying tribute to St David.

President Jill Osborne warmly thanked Donna for taking time from her busy schedule to attend the St David's Day breakfast, presenting her with flowers and a Welsh love spoon; and wished her every success for her year as RIBI national president 2019/20, which will begin on July 1.

A raffle and closing toast to 'Rotary International and Rotarians the world over' concluded a special morning of Rotary friendship and fellowship to celebrate St David, the patron saint of Wales.

The Rotary Club of Barry meets weekly in Brynhill Golf Club on Thursdays at 6.30pm. For further information contact Barry Rotary president elect David Jakeway on 07533 048620 or look online at www.rbi.org.

'All-Wales approach to revising speed limits needed' says councillor

THE Vale Council's cabinet member for Neighbourhood Services and Transport, Cllr Geoff Cox, has written to Minister for Economy and Transport Ken Skates AM to set out the council's view that 20mph speed limits cannot be realised unless Welsh Government takes the lead and sets an all-Wales approach.

While traffic speed is recognised as being a major contributory factor to the severity of road traffic collisions, evidence to date on the success of 20mph limits, in respect to them having any significant impact on road traffic collisions or casualties, is limited. Cllr Cox said: "I can see the potential benefits of 20mph speed limits for specific traffic speed related problems. I recognise that there are a number of local and national groups advocating the introduction of such limits on a significant scale across the Vale of Glamorgan, a number of whom I have personally met; however I am also aware that there are many residents in the Vale who are opposed to the concept."

"Changing the minimum speeds in many areas of the Vale from 30mph to 20mph, as is being suggested by some groups, represents a major decision for this council and one which I feel requires input and guidance from our national Government; due to the lack of evidence available of their success to date, the juxtaposition of our residents, the cost of their introduction (which is estimated at £700k for this council), and the fact that this is a Wales, or even, a UK wide issue."

There are a number 20mph zones in the Vale of Glamorgan, the majority of which have been implemented as part of an initiative to create safer routes to schools.

St David's Day celebrated at charity twmpath

THE Vale for Africa charity held a twmpath on St David's Day at the St Donat's Centre at Atlantic College. The event was supported by Jane Hutt AM, Cowbridge, Llantwit Major and Barry town council mayors and the Lord Lieutenant Morfudd Meredith.

Raising funds for the charity's Eye Care Project in the Tororo district of Eastern Uganda, local optometrists led by Ted Arbutnot take an eye care team on an annual visit to the area to provide treatment and training.

The twmpath provided an opportunity for more than 100 people to hear more about the work in Uganda, including support for students at Atlantic College from the Tororo community.

Vale-built Aston Martin DBX on show at No. 10 St David's Day event

THE best of Welsh industry, produce, and culture was celebrated at 10 Downing Street at a reception hosted by the Prime Minister for St David's Day.

Among those celebrating Wales' national day were world-renowned fashion designer Julien Macdonald OBE and Chairman of the Welsh Rugby Union Gareth Davies.

The new Aston Martin DBX – built at the marque's new manufacturing plant in the Vale – was parked in Downing Street. The site will become Aston Martin's 'home of electrification', putting Wales at the forefront of electric technology and bringing over 700 new jobs to the region.

Inside Number 10 Welsh creative talent was centre stage; Julien Macdonald showcased a selection of his fashion range while guests enjoyed musical performances from Welsh choir Côr Llundain and harpist Dylan Wyn Rowlands.

Prime Minister Theresa May said: "The sheer breadth of talent and industry represented here today is testament to the huge contribution the people of Wales make both at home and on the world stage.

"From music to manufacturing, fashion to food, it is a real privilege to celebrate Wales' proud heritage and bright future ahead of St David's Day."

"Wales has a truly global outlook and I am delighted to see this great nation go from strength to strength."

Secretary of State for Wales, and Vale MP, Alun Cairns (pictured with Aston Martin Lagonda CEO Dr Andy Palmer) said: "I am delighted to celebrate St David's Day by opening the doors of No10 once again to welcome guests from all aspects of Welsh culture in celebration of our unique history, language, sporting and business achievements."

"I'd like to thank all those who came together to make the event a success today. It is a clear demonstration of the UK Government and the Prime Minister's commitment to Wales, recognising that Wales is an integral part of our union."

Brass band and choir perform for charity

BARRY Community Choir and Barry Brass Band performed at the recent charity concert for the Mayor of Barry, held last month in St Helen's Church, Barry.

The band played a selection of music, and the choir of over 30 singers, sang melodies old and new. Thanks to all who organised the event and supported it on the night; we hope that it raised a large sum for the Mayor's charities.

Two busy months start the year at Camera Club

AFTER the excesses of Christmas and the New Year celebrations, Barry Camera Club met on January 4 for a presentation of prints by Barbra Archdale-Smith, ARPS.

Barbra is a long-established member of the club, having served on committee for many years including stints as both chair and vice-chair. For the first half of the evening we were treated to some exquisitely presented pictures of Tuscany and Venice, which included the images that formed her successful ARPS panel.

The landscapes of Tuscany were the result of multiple visits over a number of years and displayed the deep love she has for the area. After coffee we were shown Barbra's other work, taken throughout Europe over the years, which demonstrated a wide variety of subject matter and general pictorial styles, all backed up by her usual high-quality printing and presentation. Thank you, Barbra, for a very enjoyable evening.

The 11th of the month featured Brian Coleman EFIAP, FWPF, who we have not seen for some time. Instead of the usual pictorial evening, Brian gave us a talk entitled 'What I Look For As A Judge'.

Our monthly competition is fiercely contested but we do seem to get one or two of the members being more successful than most of the others.

This presentation gave the rest of us lesser mortals some clues and tips on how to make our entries more acceptable to a judge. Having made us aware of the importance of style, composition, subject matter and presentation, we were given a practical session where Brian showed us some of his own work and asked us to award a score to it, as if we were judging it.

After we had cast our votes he told us the scores that each had received when they were entered into various competitions – needless to say the marks often differed considerably, which Brian explained was due to our voting high on pictures that we liked and low on those that we did not.

This summary explained why some of our pictures have not scored as well as we would have liked. In all, this was a very interesting and rewarding night, especially as Brian is booked to judge one of our monthly competitions later in the year.

On January 18 we were given a joint presentation by two of our members, Dave Green and Kathy Edwards. Each gave an impressive and varied presentation based upon their particular interests. Dave showed a wide variety of sport and music subjects, and Kathy showed us shots taken on her travels over the years.

On the first of February we were given a fabulous presentation by Alyn Wallace, of Llanelli. Alyn battled the weather to get to us and present his low light 'nightscape' and astro-photography work and was welcomed warmly.

He first came to us a year ago and it was obvious then from the quality of his work that he would be a great success. Since then, he has gone from strength to strength having success in major competitions such as Astro Photographer of the Year, numerous periodical publications and image sales; his success has been so great that he has now turned professional.

The scope of his work is truly phenomenal: Turkey, the Dolomites, Iceland, the Canary Islands, Spain and Italy all featured as well as numerous shots taken in the Brecon Beacons.

The night-sky shots showed star trails, meteor showers and images of the Milky Way, with a particularly memorable shot taken on the Spanish island of La Palma, showing the moon rising through the arch of the Milky Way.

Alyn was very generous with tips and advice explaining in detail his entire workflow and describing what equipment is needed and, more importantly, how to use it! Several of the members have expressed an interest in trying out this technique and we look forward to seeing some of their efforts in future competitions.

Thank you, Alyn, for one of the most interesting nights we have had in a long time and we look forward to your next visiting on January 20 next year,

On February 8, we visited the Vale Camera Club at Ynysowen for our annual seven-way print battle. Each club entered four colour prints and four monochrome prints. The competition judge gave a constructive and critical assessment and expressed his pleasure at the quality on show, with Barry coming a creditable joint third.

On the 15th we were visited by Gerald Davies who gave us a talk entitled 'Photographic Composition from Basic to Advanced Techniques'.

Gerald, a vastly experienced photographer, gave a very succinct definition of "composition – to arrange the subject matter in the frame to give a pleasant photograph". A more detailed explanation dealt with the major compositional tools of the 50/50 split, the rule of thirds, the golden ratio, symmetry, leading lines and many others.

One of the key points he made was that it is not essential to have a bag full of expensive equipment to make good photographs – as the famous landscape photographer Ansel Adams once said: "The single most important component of a camera is the 12 inches behind it."

The final meeting of the month on the 22nd was, as always, our monthly competition and the guest judge on this occasion was old friend of the club Johnnie Rogers ARPS, AFIAP, AWP, CPAGB. Johnnie gave a measured and constructive criticism and expressed his pleasure in the overall standard of the entries which inevitably led to the marking being very close.

Best mono print scoring 20 points was judged to be Glenn Porter's 'North American River Otters'. Second place, scoring 19 points, was Rob Owens' 'Timber Remains' and third place with 18 points was awarded to Barbra Archdale-Smith for her 'Demi Johns'. Highly commended in the monochrome prints section was Glenn Porter for 'Trwyn Du Lighthouse'.

Colour prints were equally tightly marked. Glenn Porter did rather well, gaining first place with 20 points for 'Early Morning On The River Frome'.

Barbra Archdale-Smith gained second place and 19 points for her '44 Over Three' and Kathy Edwards was awarded third place and 18 points for 'Picnic On The Edge'. Highly commended in this section was Rob Owens for 'Autumn at Llyn Trawsfynydd'.

The projected images section did, as usual, attract the largest entry and Johnnie found it easier to separate the highest scorers in this section. First place was won by Glenn Porter who was awarded 20 points for 'Quad Bike Racing', Philippa Evans gained second place and 19 points for 'Frozen Lake!' and third place with 18 points was awarded to Glenn Porter for 'Surfer'.

Just missing out on the placings was Nicola Thwaite, who was awarded a highly commended and 18 points for her 'Streets of Morocco'. Congratulations to all for a well-deserved 'mention in despatches', in particular to Glenn for multiple successes.

Throughout the rest of the year we have a full programme of talks, demonstrations, photographic expeditions, competitions and inter-club battles planned. New members are particularly encouraged and will be made most welcome with a programme being prepared especially for the new and less experienced photographers to allow them to quickly gain more proficiency and satisfaction from their hobby.

During the summer we will be holding open days and field trips to encourage people to learn a little more about the art of photography and produce better pictures.

Barry Camera Club meets every Friday evening from 7pm to 9.30pm at St Francis Millennium Centre, Porth-y-Castell, Barry, CF62 6NX. We are a very friendly organisation and new members of all experience and skill levels are always welcome to attend with no obligation to join. Alternatively, for more information visit barrycameraclub.co.uk.

Endurance race returns to Barry

SUNDAY, March 10 sees the return of an extraordinary test of endurance, the Barry Track 40 Miles and Barry Marathon Track Race, at the Jenner Park Stadium.

Racing over such arduous distances pre-dates the modern Olympic Games and was very popular in the mid- and late 19th century. In Wales too, many such races were held in Maindy Stadium, Cardiff and the first sub-four hour 40 miles was achieved there in 1967.

The local equivalent at Barry was first held on the cinder track in 1986 and was won by local athlete Mick McGeoch, who remains the race director today.

After converting the track to a synthetic surface the following year, the Barry 40 has been held every year, and has earned its place as a cult event on the global ultra calendar.

In the previous 32 editions no less than 62 world best performances have been set, and three Barry winners have gone on to win global titles – Carolyn Hunter-Rowe (1993), Simon Pride (1999) and Lizzy Hawker (2006).

The Barry Marathon was created in 2017 as an opportunity for those who would find themselves unable to complete 40 miles in the allotted time, and has proved a popular under card.

Two-time winner Steven Way (Bournemouth AC) is unable to defend his title this year, which leaves a potentially very open race. Samantha Amend (Belgrave Harriers) is the stand-out entry, and we could see an outright lady winner.

Potentially the quickest in the field is Grant Jeans from Glasgow. Incredibly loyal to today's event, Grant has twice won here in 2012 and 2015, and last August won the Strathaven 50 miler for the fifth time in a new record. If he has managed to arrive injury-free, he will be hard to beat.

Nathan Flear (3Ms Gorseinon) has been runner-up for the last two years, as well as Welsh Champion. He has been training in both Kenya and Bulgaria lately and flies home especially for this race.

Norwegian-born Ake Fagereng is a scientist currently based at Cardiff University. Now 36, he has contested ultra races all over the world and most notably won the 2015 Racing the Planet Roving Race, 250km over six days in Ecuador. However, 40 miles on a track is a new experience, even for him.

As always the race incorporates the Welsh Ultradistance Championships, and five of the athletes qualify for that. The great thing about ultradistance is that every athlete has a tale to tell – a special reason for competing, if you like.

Such tales are invariably inspiring. Syd Wheeler (Chepstow) comes to Barry to compete in the marathon, having completed a marathon every year since 1983. Syd has completed the 40 miles five times in the past between 1996-2002 and is now 81 years old!

Finally we welcome a local man, Jason Elworthy, who competes in the T38 class. Jason competes for Barry & Vale Harriers, where he also coaches.

In the past he has mainly competed in the throws and shorter distances, with a longest distance of Half Marathon in Cardiff, where he set a Welsh record of 4:16:49. The race starts at 10am and admission is free.

Holton Road reach cup final

HOLTON Road AFC seniors progressed to the Supporters Cup final after a convincing semi-final victory over an in-form Cadoxton Imps.

Holton ran out 3-0 winners with goals from Pearce, Harris and Williams.

Holton will play Cadoxton Barry in the final on Sunday, April 7 at Jenner Park. The club would like to say a massive thank you to Avi at the Vere Street Nisa/Vapestation store for helping with sponsorship towards their new match day track suits and also a huge thank you to Jamie at Macron and Ollie and Amanda at Busy Bee Insurance for kindly donating our new away kit which is part of the Martine Adams awareness campaign.

They are working closely with Martine and her husband Scott (the team's goalkeeper) in her battle with a rare form of cancer. For more details on Martine's courageous journey please visit her Facebook page, she is an inspiration to all at Holton Road AFC.

St David's Day celebrations at Brynhill Golf Club

BRYNHILL Golf Club's golfing ladies, along with past members and guests, celebrated St David's Day by enjoying an evening of fun and laughter.

The lady captain, Jo Kirkpatrick welcomed everyone and made special reference to past members June Sanderson and Mo Merrick. Jo also welcomed guests, and noted that Rosina Butler and friends continue to support the ladies section.

Before the ladies tucked into a delicious Welsh-themed dinner, Robbie Lee said grace in Welsh.

In between courses, ladies competed in a hotly contested table quiz which was naturally based on all things Welsh. A mini Bingo competition followed dinner with Rosina winning.

The evening culminated with a Welsh Lady costume competition whereby three models were dressed by their three chosen dressers using an eclectic mix of Welsh decorations including toilet paper! Jan Robertson was voted winner and she and her dressers, Liz Taylor, Robbie Lee and Judy Davies, were presented with prizes.

The lady captain rounded off the evening by thanking everyone for attending plus special thanks to her vice-captain Lisa Taylor, who organized the mini bingo and Welsh Lady competition.

Winners of recent competitions were: Mud Glorious Mud played on February 19: Chris Hopkins, 17 points; St David's Day played on February 26: Audrey Phillips 18 points over the back seven from Jane Phillips.

Fixture chaos for Cowbridge RFC

WHEN fixtures were published for the 2018-19 season, the final league games were due to be played on March 30.

Postponements, mainly due to weather conditions in November, have meant the season has now stretched to the end of April with a fixture on each Saturday.

It was therefore extremely disappointing when Pentyrch called off last Saturday's match on Friday evening due to lack of players - another match to re-arrange!

There are no matches for the next two international Saturdays so the next game for the firsts is away at Clwb Rygbi on March 23 followed by Tylorstown at home on March 30. We then take them on away on the following Saturday.

It's all getting very tight at the top of the table with Fairwater and Treharris winning comfortably last Saturday. Treharris are looking very strong in third place on 52 points having played just 12 matches. Cowbridge are on 55 from 15 and Fairwater on 65 from 16 - it's all to play for.

Finally, good luck to Wales on what promises to be an epic end to the Six Nations. A reminder that all the games will be shown at the Clubhouse where there will be a great welcome.

RY

On and Off The Turf with Brian Lee

L A N D S M A N , trained by Aberthyn's Tim Vaughan and ridden by stable jockey Alan Johns, landed the maiden hurdle at far flung Musselburgh on Wednesday, February 27.

His backers had little to fear as the strongly fancied six-year-old came home 12 lengths ahead of Animore, ridden by Ross Chapman.

Followers of Bargoed's Welsh-speaking jockey David Probert had plenty to smile about at Wolverhampton on Tuesday evening.

He won on 14-1 chance Our Manekineko, 7-2 shot Swiss Storm and 6-4 chance Flaming Marvel, which David's punters were probably calling him!

BRACE'S LUDLOW WINNER

CONNOR Brace from Porthcawl, a 7lbs claiming jockey, came in for plenty of praise when winning on Fergal O'Brien's Carrolls Milan at Ludlow on Thursday, February 28.

A former national champion novice point-to-point rider, Connor got his mount home by a length from Gold Chain in the mares' handicap hurdle race.

Carrolls Milan was Cotswold trainer O'Brien's 35th winner of the season and was returned at odds of 5-1.

EDWARD BOOTS HOME ANOTHER WINNER

EDWARD Vaughan, aged 11, son of Aberthyn National Hunt trainer Tim and Abbi Vaughan riding his grey mare White Water added another win to his many successes when winning the Stars of Tomorrow Stakes over nine furlongs at the Beaufort Hunt Point-to-Point Steeplechases at Didmarton last Saturday.

Buddys Girl (Elliot England) was second and O'Flynn's Daughter, ridden by the Vale's Daniel Ellis (14), was third.

Cowbridge's Byron Moorcroft chalked up his 11th winner of the season when landing the Intermediate race.

Riding Tommy Faulkner's eight-year-old Mister Robbo, which led four fences from the finish, he went on to score by 15 lengths from 33-1 outsider Midnight Monkey.

Mister Robbo, a 5-2 chance, was well ridden by Moorcroft and was Faulkner's fifth winner of the season.

Moorcroft said: "That was very easy and I'm delighted with the way the horse ran."

The favourite, Billy Gwyn Too, partnered by Merthyr Mawr's Jack Tudor was pulled up.

In the Club Members' race, Bradley Gibbs on Moral Hazard jumped the last fence clear of Sarazen Bridge but the latter ran on gamely on the run-in, and, after what seemed like a very long time, it was announced that Sarazen Bridge's rider Nick Phillips had got his mount up on the line to win by a neck.

Phillips later took the Restricted on the well-backed Mankala, which won by three lengths from Barrafahona.

James King, 23, riding Oscar Bravo for Clare Lloyd Davies took the Open Maiden Race finishing eight lengths ahead of GetABuck.

The Young Horse Maiden went to the odds-on Hot To Trot which led at the last and went on to beat the second favourite Arctic Milly by four lengths. Hot To Trot was partnered by Tamartha Worsley, 24, who has ridden around a dozen winners under Rules.

In the Conditions Race for Novice Riders, Jack Tudor, aboard David Brace's William Money, a former inmate of Tim Vaughan's yard, went off the favourite and went straight into the lead.

However, at the finish, he was some seven lengths adrift of the winner Vivaldi Collonges, an ex-National Hunt performer of note which was ridden by BW Bromley.

CONNOR'S 40-1 WINNER

FORMER Welsh pony racing champion and last season's novice champion point-to-point rider Connor Brace put his flat racing experience to good use when landing the Racing TV Standard Open Flat Race over two miles at Huntingdon on Sunday.

Riding A Book Of Intrigue, a 40-1 chance, for Cotswold's Fergal O'Brien, the six-year-old, who was racing in public for the first time in 440 days, scored by a length from Chat To Charlie.

Ogmore-By-Sea's Christian Williams sent his Cap Du Nord on the 309-mile trip to Sedgefield where his six-year-old course and distance winner took the £18,768 Young Chasers Series Final Handicap Chase under Pembrokehire's James Bowen.

Cap Du Nord went off the 9-4 joint favourite.

The Vale of Glamorgan Football League round-up

TWO of the divisional cup finals are set, and Jenner Park will welcome the sides for the divisional show pieces as the sides battled it out this weekend.

Holton Road continue their chase for their treble, booking their Supporters Cup final spot as they shrugged off two successive league losses to show their class, as they defeated Cadoxton Imps 3-0.

Holton Road will play Cadoxton Barry at Jenner Park, as they comprehensively saw off Cwm Talwg 4-0.

Penarth Town B made the Dockers Cup final with an impressive 4-0 over league leaders AFC Rhose B.

Penarth B have been in fine form as of late and they will play

Vale Madrid who have thrown league form out the window as they were victorious over Island Marine B 2-1.

In the historic ASRS Cup semi-final Island Marine notched a 2-0 victory over Cowbridge Town - they head to Jenner Park to play the winner of AFC Rhose and Penarth Town in the other semi-final this weekend.

Only two league games were played this weekend, as Cardiff Airport continued their recent rival as they edged Cogan Coronation 2-1 to move three points behind Cogan in fourth.

Finally, St Athan B kept up the pressure on the top two, albeit having played two games more, with a 4-3 win over Cadoxton Athletic.

Golfers enjoy a 'reverse waltz'

IN their main competition of the week, 33 members of St. Mary's Golf Club's senior section teed off in a scheduled team Waltz (1,2,3) competition.

In the normal waltz format the teams of three players record the best one of the three scores on the first hole, the best two on the second and all three on the third hole, that same sequence then being maintained through the full course of 18 holes.

On this occasion, however, the members decided to reverse the order to 3,2,1, a format popularly dubbed 'Dusty Bin' by the members who are mostly all of that certain age.

Sweaters were soon discarded in the record end of February temperatures and the players took full advantage of the ideal scoring conditions.

The majority of the teams returned scores better than the nominal par of 72 stableford points for an average of two scores counting per hole. The three placings all broke 80 points with third spot going to the team of Andrew Lane, Gareth Jones and section chairman, Gordon Martin, who repeated his feat of the previous week by bagging another brace of birdies.

Just one point better with 81 points was the team of Roger Hatton, Mike Cook and Eddie Fothergill. With a fine score of 83 points, however, the win was secured by Roy Denton, Steve Philips (who made net eagle on the 15th) and new member, Malcolm Jones.

Two days later, in their second competition of the week and with normal winter weather restored, just 11 hardy members braved the teeming rain to tee off in an individual stableford competition which was sensibly reduced to just 10 holes.

The scoring belied the unpleasant conditions with, once again, all three placings bettering the nominal par score of 20.

With 21 points Trefor Jones took third place. Section captain, Dave Hughes returned 23 points for second place, just one behind long-hitter Graham Jones' 24 points.

Gymnasts celebrate medal success at championships!

YMCA Barry Gymnastics Club are ecstatic with the most recent results from their male artistic gymnastics squad.

On February 23, YMCA Barry gymnasts competed in the annual Welsh Gymnastics Championships where the highest level gymnasts in Wales came together to compete.

In the youngest category of the day, the under-10s, YMCA Barry had four gymnasts compete, Zhao-Kai Wilcox, Harley Clifton, Martins Kononovs and Jacob Watkins.

Even at their very young age, all four gymnasts did themselves proud and showing great maturity in their performances. All of the boys competed on the six male gymnastics apparatus, Floor, Vault, Rings, Parallel Bars, High Bar and the Pommel Horse.

Within the individual apparatus events, the YMCA Barry gymnasts received top six placings on every apparatus with Martins who secured third on Floor, fifth on Rings, fifth on Vault, fifth on Parallel Bars.

Zhao-Kai received sixth on Floor, third on Pommel Horse, sixth on Rings and sixth on Parallel Bars.

Harley claimed fourth on Floor, sixth on Pommel Horse, fourth on Rings, sixth on Vault and fourth on Parallel Bars.

Jacob received second on High Bar, second on Vault and fantastically became the under-10s Welsh Champion on the Floor, Rings, Parallel Bars and Pommel Horse.

In the all-around event which is all of the six apparatus combined, Martins claimed ninth, Zhao-Kai fifth, Harley fourth and Jacob became the overall under-10s Welsh champion!

Finally, within the team category, all four boys supported each other throughout the competition and became the under-10s

Welsh team champions!

Within the under-16's category, Rhys Griffiths competed despite only being able to compete on three pieces of apparatus due to an injury.

Rhys did not let this phase him, showing his determination and competed faultlessly. Rhys received sixth place on Rings and became the under-16s High Bar Welsh champion!

Within the senior category, Cameron Sinden, Alex Shanahan, Josh Cook and Harri Morgan competed at the highest level and demonstrated some amazing gymnastics.

In the individual apparatus, the senior gymnasts followed their team mates and featured on every apparatus results.

Cameron received third on Vault, fourth on Floor, fifth on Pommel Horse, fifth on Rings, fourth on Parallel Bars and sixth on High Bar.

Alex claimed fifth place on Vault. Harri secured fifth on Floor, sixth on Rings, sixth on Parallel Bars and third place on High Bar.

Josh Cook sustained his consistency and received second on Vault, second on Floor, second on Pommel Horse, second on Rings, second on Parallel Bars and second on High Bar.

In the All Around competition, Harri was sixth, Cameron fifth and Josh won the silver medal, narrowly behind Olympian Brinn Bevan.

In the team event, Cameron, Alex, Josh and Harri became the Welsh senior team champions and received the prestigious Welsh Gymnastics Men's Artistic shield.

A fantastic achievement for YMCA Barry Gymnastics Club and a huge congratulations to all the gymnasts and their personal coaches Peter Haysham and Bradley Haysham.

Llantwit Major AFC reserves finally defeated

CHAMPIONS-ELECT Cardiff Metropolitan University came to Windmill Lane and gained their 16th straight league win over the stubborn Llantwit Major reserves with a 3-1 victory.

Llantwit Major kicked off proceedings positively and created their first chance within 15 seconds, as a clever exchange of passes between Chris Vinson, Nathan Renfree and Josh Morgan led to winger Morgan Gore in on goal only to see his effort wide of the sticks.

The home side stayed on top and enjoyed a good spell of possession with both wingers Gore and Vinson providing excellent crosses for their team, however they had no success as the Met's defence sniffed out all the danger which came their way.

After the 20 minute mark Cardiff Met found their stride and it was the Major defence on the back foot. Attack after attack saw keeper Sam Mawhinney on alert and the back three of Glyn Davies, Colm Garrett and Joe Cutter chased their opposing number towards their own goal.

Sam and the defence stood tall until the half-hour point, when the students broke the deadlock with a counter attack as their centre forward scored.

Before the break Llantwit found themselves some luck when Cardiff Met had their corner scrambled off the line with everyone bar the referee seeing it was with Jordan Davies' arm.

The second half saw Cardiff Met dominate the play with a few half-chances in front of goal. However it was Llantwit who had a glorious chance for an equaliser on 70 minutes, great work from Stephen Phillips lifted the ball through to Josh as he looked to lob the keeper from several yards out.

The visitors were to add their second moments after but Llantwit managed hit back in quick fashion to get the goal they were searching for.

Phillips played Josh through again on goal, and this time he smashed the ball past the stranded keeper. With the reserves openly searching for the equaliser, the students broke and sealed a 3-1 away win.

Credit must go the Llantwit Major team who fought throughout the game, with every player working extremely hard for each other. The run of six games without defeat for the reserves comes to an end, but with four games remaining Llantwit are eyeing a top seven finish.

They're going to be a part of it - Barry Town United reach Welsh Cup semi-final!

START spreading the news – Barry Town United are into the JD Welsh Cup semi-finals, after a trip to New York proved just the tonic for striker Kayne McLaggon.

Pitted against a spirited Cambrian and Clydach Vale in Saturday's televised quarter-final, McLaggon flew back across the pond that same morning in order to make the tie, after successfully proposing to his girlfriend in the Big Apple.

The sharpshooter then shrugged off any transatlantic jet-lag to bag himself an impressive hat-trick, helping his side to an entertaining 3-2 triumph at Jenner Park and setting up a semi-final showdown with fellow six-time winners TNS.

Barry's second semi-final in seven years and the 17th in their history will play out on the final weekend of March, at a neutral venue to be announced.

Having reaped the benefits of a home draw in each of the previous rounds, Barry began Saturday's quarter-final in formidable fashion and would take an eighth-minute lead when marksman McLaggon latched onto Jordan Cotterill's free-kick.

Seizing the initiative, there were quickly opportunities to make it two, with Robbie Patten dispatching a delightful ball over the top, allowing Cotterill to play in Jonathan Hood at the back post.

However, the path of the pass would somehow elude the former Port Talbot Town talisman, who would see a golden chance cleared off the line later in the half.

Having weathered the early turbulence, Cambrian struck back on the half-hour, as captain Mark Crutch connected with a sweet set piece from Cameron Keetch, heading the visitors from Welsh League Division One back onto level terms.

Nevertheless, Barry remained a threat up front, with McLaggon going close to snaring his second and teammate Mo Touray forcing an excellent save from returning, and long-serving, Town goalkeeper Dan Bradley in the Clydach goal.

Four minutes before the break, another former Barry player made a sizeable impact, as midfielder Sam Jones raced onto a through ball, beating the offside trap and rounding goalkeeper Mike Lewis to slot home, putting Cambrian 2-1 ahead.

Starting exit in the face, Barry would be forced to attack the second-half, with Pattern weaving through the Clydach midfield to tee up teammate Touray, before Bradley did enough to hold off McLaggon, whose shot was wayward.

Cotterill would also come close to scoring, but on this night the occasional leading man would shine brightest as a supporting player, helping facilitate McLaggon's terrific treble and greasing Barry's path to the semi-final stage.

After a double substitution in the 64th minute saw Troy Greening and Drew Fahiya join the fray, McLaggon rose to meet another Cotterill free-kick, nodding his header through a crowd of Clydach defenders, into the bottom corner.

The combination of Cotterill and McLaggon then came up trumps for the third time, as an incisive ball on the deck from the former neatly played in the latter, allowing McLaggon to skip by a defender and coolly complete his hat-trick.

In the 78th minute, Touray looked to put the outcome beyond doubt, but his attempt was blocked by an outstretched leg, as the 2019 Nathaniel MG Cup finalists kept their hopes of a second domestic final alive into the game's latter stages.

With 10 minutes to play, hope sprang anew for the visitors, after Jones had seen a well-taken volley whizz past Lewis' goal.

This time it was Camilo Strinati who took aim from a distance, but Lewis got down well to deny his effort and keep Barry's goal advantage intact.

From the subsequent corner, Cambrian then looked to bundle the ball over the Barry goalline, though unfortunately for the visitors, they took goalkeeper Lewis with it, with substitute Richard French penalised for the foul instead.

In the closing moments, manager Gavin Chesterfield gave a home debut to Wales under-21 international Rhys Abbruzzese, though the full-back will have to wait for another day to make his mark at Jenner Park.

Though McLaggon could well have had his fourth by the end, he and his Barry teammates will be happy with the nature of their comeback victory, while conscious of the challenge now posed by professionals TNS at the end of the month.

Riding high in the JD Welsh Premier once more, the champions come to Jenner Park for a Phase Two league encounter on Saturday, April 13, by which time we will know which of the sides will challenge for a seventh Welsh Cup trophy.

League matters take priority again this weekend though, as Barry head up to Newtown, looking to avenge the disastrous 2-0 defeat incurred on their last visit to Latham Park in October, as late goals in either half proved the Town's undoing.

Kick-off is at 2.30pm, with second-placed TNS facing off with leaders Connah's Quay Nomads on Deeside at 5.15pm.

Barry win bonus point after scare

JUDITH DUTTON was on hand to capture the match action - see more pictures at glamorgan-gem.co.uk/sport.

BARRY RFC finally overcame resilient visitors Heol Y Cyw in a tense match at the Reservoir Field last Saturday.

The result was in doubt up to the final minutes with Barry having to dig deep to get the victory by 33 points to 27.

Playing with the elements in their favour in the first half, Barry gradually built up a lead with a John Miles try and a conversion plus three penalties from Einar Scott and looked comfortable with the scoreline at 16-0.

With the Cyw playing an expansive game and keeping the ball moving, Barry had to be on their guard against attacks from deep and slowly the visitors started to apply pressure on the home defence.

They were rewarded as Barry conceded two quick penalties from where they ran out of defenders as the visitors crossed for a converted try.

Barry came back from the restart but the visitors' defence was solid, denying them any chance to add to their score as the final minutes of the half were even and the score remained at 16-7 as the whistle went to end proceedings.

With the elements against them, Barry began the second period on the attack but a promising move broke down in the visitors' 22 from where they counter-attacked, making their way into the home 22.

Barry won the lineout, but the clearance rebounded into the arms of a Cyw player for a simple try and conversion bringing the score to 16-14.

Buoyed by their good fortune, Cyw brought on some forward replacements who immediately made an impression as the Barry scrum was put in reverse, causing them to concede a penalty.

Barry were penalised again as Cyw drove the lineout from which a quickly taken penalty caught the Barry defence off guard saw them cross for an unconverted try but importantly the lead at 16-19.

With the game finely balanced, Barry seemed to gather themselves and forced Cyw to concede a penalty. Rather than go for goal, they opted for the corner.

Winning the ball they drove at the visitors with the backs joining in as well with Alyn Evans finding his way in for the try which was unconverted.

Stung into action, Cyw went straight back into the attack and some strong midfield running and poor defence allowed them to cross for an unconverted try. The scoreboard now read 21-24 in the visitors' favour.

The all-action style of Cyw was unsettling Barry and minutes later they conceded a penalty as the visitors opened up a six point gap.

Entering the final minutes, Barry went into overdrive and from the restart worked their way into the visitors' 22 where this time they won a penalty.

Taking a leaf from Cyw, James Hadfield took it quickly to crash over for a try, which, when Einar Scott converted, saw Barry in the lead at 28-27.

The restart saw Barry get a penalty taking play deep into the visitors' 22, where from the lineout which followed they drove hard to the line where Tom Perry got the touchdown for the unconverted try.

This proved to be the last move of the game as the referee blew the final whistle to end the match, leaving Barry with the spoils and a hard earned victory of 33-27 for a much-needed bonus point win.

With seven games to play, Barry are still in the promotion mix. Unfortunately, six of those games are away from home making the task that much more difficult.

Barry have games in hand over all the sides above them due to earlier season postponements. They play the first two of these on Friday, March 8 when they travel to Aberdare for a 7pm kick off, followed by a visit to Llanharan on Friday, March 15, again with a 7pm kick off.

The lottery rolls over again this week to £3,850 as last week's numbers of 06, 09, 16 and 17 failed to produce a winner. Four tickets matched three numbers for a £10 prize.
